Trees, Service Poles Fall as Gale Rages

Firemen Demolish Fallen Chimney On Roof In 60 m.p.h. Wind

Northwest Cook county was no exception to the 60 mile an hour wintry blasts that swept Illinois Monday. The strongest wind most of the residents ever encountered upset many a tree and service pole within the villages as well as the country. Some farmers were caught off guard as roofs of small buildings and unstable objects were scattered over the farm. Northwestern trains were put behind schedule as some 15 to 20 Western Union poles east of the Palatine business district were sheared like sticks and tossed over the tracks.

Arlington Heights fire department braved the storm, protecting autoists from fallen limbs and "live" wires. With most of the village in darkness between six and seven o'clock in the evening, the firemen had to be reached by telephone instead of the electric siren. Campbell street in front of the Herald office was barricaded for safety's sake when a large limb from a tree at the corner of the American Legion home tumbled across several strands of telephone and power lines.

The firemen had a tough job on their hands when a tall chimney toppled at a residence at south Mitchell and Harvard st. Several beams in the roof were damaged and the firemen had to break the chimney down into small pieces and throw them clear of the house. This was accomplished in the midst of a withering gale that almost swept them off their feet.

Several roofs of homes in Scarsdale had large blocks of shingles torn off.

Service men from the telephone and Public Service companies were kept busy from 11 o'clock Monday morning until late Tuesday night replacing wires. A fallen wire on South Mitchell st., Arlington Heights, sparkled in a tree and lighted up the neighborhood to such a degree that the fire department was given an emergency call to that location.

One of the biggest obstacles for the public service men to overcome in this territory occurred at Golf, Illinois, where a steel tower supporting high power 33,000 volts lines, was destroyed.

Weather officials reported it was the highest wind in forty-six years. It hit this part of the country Monday morning at 11 o'clock and continued for the rest of the day and well into Tuesday.

Damage About Palatine

Many trees about Palatine were blown down and uprooted, water pipes were blown off of houses, a heavy skylight cover on the First National Bank building was picked up and sailed over onto the roof of the National Tea Co. building. At the Herman Glade farm on Plum Grove, one part of a roof was blown off a barn and the big barn was cracked in the middle. An apple tree was uprooted and hurled 25 feet neatly clearing a farm wagon standing in the yard. A considerable portion of shingles placed last spring on the residence of Chester Faust, old Plum Grove rd., were blown off.

Farmers all over the territory report standing corn flattened, corn shocks blown over and in some places a hard hail storm at the start of the blow did considerable damage.

Arlington Park race track is reported to have sustained considerable damage to the roofs of its walks from railroad to grandstand. One barn was wrecked and others badly damaged.

It was the hardest wind in the memory of "the old timers" and at times reached almost tornado proportions.

Palatine firemen were called to the residence of George Herrmann about six o'clock Monday evening due to an explosion of an oil burner. The fire damage was slight.

Other storm damage around Palatine are, part of roof of Wildhagen property in Plum Grove blown off; falling tree breaks windows in Henry Wolf residence; a tool shed on the Fred Wille farm was blown off its foundation.

In the neighborhood of Bensenville a tree fell on the Stellman residence and a summer kitchen on the Adolph Harmening place was badly damaged.

A shed on the John Margraff farm, Golf and East River road, was blown down.

A barn on the former Hinsberger farm, at Dundee and Arlington Heights road was blown down.

Red Cross Drive Starts In Arlington Heights

Mrs. Wilke Celebrates 90th Birthday

Born ten years before the start of the civil war, Mrs. Henry Wilke, who has resided in Arlington Heights eighty years, celebrated her 90th birthday Wednesday. She is as spry as a sixty year old and met at the door the visitors who called during the afternoon and evening to extend their congratulations.

Mrs. Wilke was only ten years old when her family arrived in Arlington Heights from Germany after spending a year in the vicinity of Addison.

Her father, Fred Clausing, purchased 200 acres north of the present race track property. His two daughters, Caroline and Charlotte married Henry and Christ Wilke and later the larger farm was divided between the two families.

Caroline Clausing became Mrs. Henry Wilke when 18 years old and resided on the farm originally purchased by her father until she moved to Arlington Heights.

Mr. Wilke died in 1896. She now resides with her son, Henry, at 612 N. Chestnut street.

Among the callers Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wulff, of Palatine; Mrs. Wilke was the sponsor at the christening of Mrs. Wulff over sixty years ago.

Vaccination Drive Soon In Heights Schools

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" may be applied to the drive for immunization protection against diphtheria and smallpox, which the Arlington Heights Public Health committee announced today they are going to sponsor in conjunction with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and Arlington Heights Board of Health.

Less than 50% of the children in this community have been vaccinated and one third of them are unprotected against diphtheria, the committee pointed out. It is hoped that every child in the Arlington Heights schools will cooperate in the Schick testing to be offered in a few weeks. Since diphtheria and small pox are most prevalent in the fall and winter, the Health Center points out and urges all parents to cooperate in making this community 100% immunized.

The Schick test for immunization against diphtheria is a simple and harmless skin test that shows in 48 hours whether or not a person is immune. In "Schicking" a small amount of liquid is injected into the skin on the forearm and from that the reaction is noted. No charge will be made for the test, and only those children whose parents have signed the "consent slips" which will be sent to them, will be tested.

Should a positive reaction result, it indicates a susceptibility to diphtheria, and it will then be suggested to parents that the reactors be taken to the family physician for the toxoid to establish protection against the disease. A negative reaction indicates that immunity to diphtheria is present at the time of the test. Vaccination, on the other hand, is for the method of immunization for smallpox.

If there are any questions regarding the Schick test, it is suggested parents call Mrs. Adele Pino, R.N., of Arlington Heights Health Center.

"We want our drive of immunization this year to reduce possibilities of these diseases in Arlington Heights," Mrs. Pino stated, "and your cooperation with the Health Center is allowing your child to be tested or will help make Arlington Heights 100% immunized against the scourge of diphtheria.

Foley and Allen Fill First Army Quota of District One

Pals Thru School, Bill and John Enter Army Together

John Allen and Wm. Foley, of Arlington Heights, are filling the first quota for draft district number 1.

Two Local Volunteers Will Report Monday For Induction

Almost inseparable since the days of grade school, William Foley and John Allen of Arlington Heights are filling the first quota of draft district one and will report for induction into army service at 7:30 a. m. Monday morning.

D. R. Rippey, chairman of the draft board received word Tuesday that the draft quota for this district was two. He found it easy to fill and selecting two men from the local volunteers, he issued the orders that Foley and Allen have been awaiting since they volunteered for enlistment.

The two boys have signified no service preference except that it be land duty. They hope that they will be able to remain together. Foley graduated from Arlington Heights high school in 1936 and Allen a year later.

The latter has had two years training in the ROTC, attending a school of mines and mineralogy, a year at the University of Illinois and a semester at Armour's Institute. Wiliam entered the Northern Trust bank immediately after his graduation and is leaving their employ with the assurance that there will be a job waiting for him after his year's training.

Ferd Weidner, 921 North Dunton, Arlington Heights joined the ranks of reeruits of the technical branch of the air corps at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, last week and in another week or two will be on his way to Hawaii where he will probably be stationed for the duration of the three years for which he has signed up. Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Englebert Weidner, was quick to take advantage of an announcement of two thousand vacancies in the air corps and immediately asked for the three year enlistment instead of the one he was so certain that he was going to like it.

Walter M. Mueller, route 1, Arlington Heights, has been assigned to Scott field in Illinois for his technical training in the air corps.

Albert Duenn, another Arlington Heights boy, is in the same position as Allen and Foley, except that he has not yet been ordered to report. He has volunteered for service but will necessarily wait for quota assignment.

Schroeder, of Chicago, president of the North Illinois Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church, and incidentally the president-elect of Eden Theological Seminary of Webster Groves, Mo., will deliver a consecration sermon at the afternoon service which begins at three o'clock. The pastors and members and friends of the neighboring Evangelical and Reformed churches have been given a special invitation to attend this service. The pastors will extend the greetings of their respective congregations. The Junior choir will render the anthem, "Thanks Be To God" by Stanley Dickson. A solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Liddle, will be sung by Mr. Ladwig.

A "Community Thanksgiving Eve Service" will be held at eight o'clock on Wednesday, November 20, and to which the members of the various churches of the community have been invited. The Rev. Herman McCoy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, will deliver the sermon on the subject, "Let Us Give Thanks."

The Rev. Reuben C. Schellhase, pastor of the Methodist church, and the host pastor, the Rev. R. J. Kalwitz will help lead this community thanksgiving service. The combined choirs of the three churches will sing two anthems under the direction of Mr. Jack Everett.

On Sunday, November 24, a "Memorial Service" will be held in the morning at ten thirty o'clock at which time a beautiful memorial gift will be dedicated.

The final service of rededication will be the appearance of the Bell chorus in concert in this church on Wednesday evening, December 11, at 8:15 p. m.

The members of St. John Evangelical congregation have intended for several years to enlarge their house of worship so that a more effective program of Christian education might be carried out. The church will now seat three hundred people comfortably.

In keeping with the new liturgical arrangement, a center aisle new leads directly to the altar. New chancel furniture, woodwork, and reredos have been furnished in the front of the church with new carpeting laid around the altar and reredos and down the center aisle. The altar will have new brassware and a beautifully painted picture, "Christ In Gethsemane" will be hung above the altar. The nave will have six beautiful cathedral lanterns hanging from the ceiling and one in the vestibule. The church has been beautifully redecorated by Mr. D. Friedrichs of Mt. Prospect and which redecoration has been very harmoniously blended with the new stained glass windows which have been installed. The general contractors of the building have been Niemeyer and Weide and the congregation wishes to congratulate them for their excellent workmanship.

The pastor, the Rev. R. J. Kalwitz wishes especially to thank the many members and friends of the congregation who have worked hard for several weeks to make the rededication of the church possible on this Sunday, November 17. The pastor says he did not know which was more inspiring, the newly enlarged and beautifully decorated church, or the untiring efforts of the members, but he believed it was the latter.

To help make the rededication services a memorable one, a twenty-eight page "Rededicatory Booklet" has been prepared which contains the pictures of the church, the various organizations, of former pastors, and interesting historical facts, and an explanation of the liturgical arrangement of St. John's church. These booklets can be purchased at the various rededication services by members and friends of the congregation. Free programs of the rededication services will be provided to all who attend.

Paul Reveres Hunt Lost Battalion

Palatine's historic lost battalion was the object of as an intensive a hunt Sunday afternoon as that which the pheasant population was compelled to endure.

Sunday afternoon a big group of men gathered at Slade and Brockway street and started out in all directions, ringing door bells and searching for members of Palatine's famous lost battalion, the registration cards of whose members had been lost in some mysterious manner and had never reached the local draft board.

Inquiry revealed the company of Paul Reveres were members of the Arlington Heights and Palatine Legion posts who had been called into service to hunt out and notify the lost battalion that they were to register at the Village hall on Tuesday or Wednesday night between the hours of 6 and 10 p. m.

Accompanying the Legion "footers" were F. Harmon and an assistant from the County Clerk's office.

From information received it appears that the registration cards of precincts 1 and 2 of Palatine in the selective service draft were probably destroyed along with the "spoiled" cards turned in to the county clerk at the time of the registration.

It is rumored that there were too many "generals" giving orders during the rush of registration and that much confusion resulted during which the cards of Palatine's historic lost battalion were destroyed.

Anyhow, communication with Washington resulted in orders to reregister the lost battalion and Paul Carroll, district supervisor of registration, devised the Paul Revere method of rounding up the missing segment of the army and notifying them to re-register.

Hunters Caught

The opening of the pheasant season Sunday saw some game warden activity around Palatine for the first time in many years.

Arrests were made for shooting on the highway and the violators fined $25 and costs each.

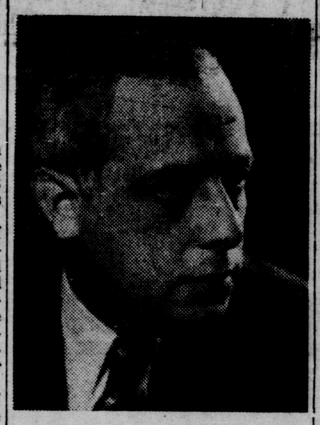

The game laws are very strict that there shall be no shooting from, on or across a highway and this favorite method of some hunters is now in the discard.

Local police also arrested violators for hunting inside the village limits, for which the fine was $5.00 and costs.

Rainy weather interferred with the comfort of the hunters during the opening days of the season and contributed much to the safety of the birds.

Eight hunters were arrested in Arlington Heights Sunday for shooting within the village. Each was fined $5.00 and cost by Judge Behrens. They were all Chicago men, except two who came from Effingham.

Danzig Lawyer To Speak Before Presbyterian Men's Club

Dr. Hans Leonhardt, an outstanding lawyer and defender of democracy in the once free city of Danzig, will be the speaker at the first monthly dinner of the Men's club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church, next Tuesday at 6:30 o'clock.

Everyone interested in hearing an inside viewpoint on the situation in Germany and conquered countries, and on the possible outcome of the current European struggle are invited to hear this distinguished German scholar and leader.

Before moving to Danzig, Dr. Leonhardt was a judge in Germany after earning the highest degree awarded by German universities in law and economics. He served as legal adviser to many consulates of foreign powers in Danzig. He also represented business corporations—among others, American steamship lines.

He actively opposed the spread of Nazism and in the summer of 1938 was forced to flee with his family to America.

His Tuesday evening talk will cover many of his experiences in the struggle against dictatorship and make it clear why he determined to become a citizen of the United States.

Arlington Boys Use Planes to Reach Hunting Grounds

Four Arlington Heights young men used planes to reach desired hunting grounds this week. All four left from the Ravenwood airport Wednesday morning. The destination of Carl Behrens, of Scarsdale and M. F. Boss, 211 N. Belmont was 750 miles from Arlington Heights, in the Ozarks, where a relative of Mr. Boss has a 2,000 acre estate 15 miles from the nearest town. There are few pheasants in that country, but lots of wild turkey, quail, etc.

The other plane was occupied by Robert Hansing and Ed. Geisen, whose destination was Minnesota. The weather bureau report snow in that state but Pilot Hansing was confident that he would experience no difficulty.

Theodore Militzer Delights Grade School Audience

by MELVIN ANDERSON

"Music will tell a story!" These were the words spoken preceding the presentation of a suite of music, "The Wizard of Oz,"as composed and performed for the first time by Theodore Militzer before the student assembly of the North school Friday.

The students were delighted as Mr. Militzer related the story of the Wizard of Oz, and gave his musical interpretation of the characters through the creativeness of his own imagination. It is only through the mind of an artist such as Mr. Militzer that such impressions can become real to the listener.

Mr. Militzer demonstrated mastery of form in the development of each theme. Not only did each theme receive a complete development, but there was great artistry displayed in the way they were handled.

Contrast was found throughout. Never did one feel that the suite was repetitious in any respect. The languid "Dorothy" theme was in complete contrast to the rusty "Tin-woodman" theme or the loose-jointed "Scarecrow" theme. Pathos, fright, and humor were all experienced in this musical drama.

Mr. Militzer is an artist of first rank at the piano keyboard as well as in composition. The skilled artistry of this pianist gave the composition a complete meaning.

The students of the north school not only felt singularly honored because of the fact that this was the first performance but that Mr. Militzer has graciously dedicated his suite, "Wizard of Oz," to them. It was an experience long to be remembered, and which will make them cognizant of the fact that in their own community lives the composer and artist himself.

Choir and Choraleers Of Methodist Church To Give Concert Sunday

The combined choirs of the Methodist church and the Choraleers will present their sacred concert at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights on Sunday, November 17 at 3:30 p. m.

These two groups consisting of 65 voices will present a concert which promises to be one of the most outstanding ever presented in this community.

Among the soloists present will be Miss Claire Whalen, coloratura soprano and soloist for one of the largest Catholic churches in Chicago., Miss Ella Hettisse, contralto, member of the civic opera chorus, and Charles Patio baritone, former member of the Galveston Light Opera Company. Also featured will be Jeanette Manley organist, well known throughout the northwest towns for her excellent musicianship.

All lovers of good music are cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses of the two organizations.

Questionnaires Go To The First Hundred

Questionnaires were mailed last week by the district one draft board to the first hundred names on the eligibility list. The men are given five days in which to fill out the questionnaires. Due to the double holiday of Sunday and Armistice Day, many did not receive their questionnaires until Tuesday.

Many of the questionnaires will be returned as regulations require that they be filled out in either ink or on a typewriter.

Those desiring questionnaire aid can secure it without cost to themselves by applying to the selective service advisory board for the district, the members of which are Paul M. Godehn, chairman, Brinker road, Barrington; Andrew J. Dallstream, Barrington township and Arthur J. Donovan, Cuba township, Barrington. No announcement has yet been made as to when and where these men can be reached.

Dr. J. A. Cousins, 511 Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights and Dr. J. C. Schmidtke, Palatine, have been named as the physicians who will conduct the examinations of the boys assigned to service. This examination is not made until after the individual has been called by the local draft board. If the physician finds a boy unfit for army training, the local draft board assigns another to take his place.

Under present regulations, members of the draft board have no right to exercise any influence regarding enlistment or otherwise. They are there to see that government regulations are followed in their entirety.

Ample bulletin space is provided in the Arlington Heights headquarters for the posting of all orders and instructions, where they are available to public inspection.

The master numbers are being assigned to the entire list of registrants, and additional questionnaires will be mailed when such instructions are received by the draft board.

The chairman of the local board is D. R. Rippey and V. A. Pecchia is secretary. The third member is Robert Utpadel, Wheeling. Chief Clerk is Frank Smith.

Mrs. Wilke Celebrates 90th Birthday

Born ten years before the start of the civil war, Mrs. Henry Wilke, who has resided in Arlington Heights eighty years, celebrated her 90th birthday Wednesday. She is as spry as a sixty year old and met at the door the visitors who called during the afternoon and evening to extend their congratulations.

Mrs. Wilke was only ten years old when her family arrived in Arlington Heights from Germany after spending a year in the vicinity of Addison.

Her father, Fred Clausing, purchased 200 acres north of the present race track property. His two daughters, Caroline and Charlotte married Henry and Christ Wilke and later the larger farm was divided between the two families.

Caroline Clausing became Mrs. Henry Wilke when 18 years old and resided on the farm originally purchased by her father until she moved to Arlington Heights.

Mr. Wilke died in 1896. She now resides with her son, Henry, at 612 N. Chestnut street.

Among the callers Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wulff, of Palatine; Mrs. Wilke was the sponsor at the christening of Mrs. Wulff over sixty years ago.

Vaccination Drive Soon In Heights Schools

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" may be applied to the drive for immunization protection against diphtheria and smallpox, which the Arlington Heights Public Health committee announced today they are going to sponsor in conjunction with the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county and Arlington Heights Board of Health.

Less than 50% of the children in this community have been vaccinated and one third of them are unprotected against diphtheria, the committee pointed out. It is hoped that every child in the Arlington Heights schools will cooperate in the Schick testing to be offered in a few weeks. Since diphtheria and small pox are most prevalent in the fall and winter, the Health Center points out and urges all parents to cooperate in making this community 100% immunized.

The Schick test for immunization against diphtheria is a simple and harmless skin test that shows in 48 hours whether or not a person is immune. In "Schicking" a small amount of liquid is injected into the skin on the forearm and from that the reaction is noted. No charge will be made for the test, and only those children whose parents have signed the "consent slips" which will be sent to them, will be tested.

Should a positive reaction result, it indicates a susceptibility to diphtheria, and it will then be suggested to parents that the reactors be taken to the family physician for the toxoid to establish protection against the disease. A negative reaction indicates that immunity to diphtheria is present at the time of the test. Vaccination, on the other hand, is for the method of immunization for smallpox.

If there are any questions regarding the Schick test, it is suggested parents call Mrs. Adele Pino, R.N., of Arlington Heights Health Center.

"We want our drive of immunization this year to reduce possibilities of these diseases in Arlington Heights," Mrs. Pino stated, "and your cooperation with the Health Center is allowing your child to be tested or will help make Arlington Heights 100% immunized against the scourge of diphtheria.

Paul Reveres Hunt Lost Battalion

Palatine's historic lost battalion was the object of as an intensive a hunt Sunday afternoon as that which the pheasant population was compelled to endure.

Sunday afternoon a big group of men gathered at Slade and Brockway street and started out in all directions, ringing door bells and searching for members of Palatine's famous lost battalion, the registration cards of whose members had been lost in some mysterious manner and had never reached the local draft board.

Inquiry revealed the company of Paul Reveres were members of the Arlington Heights and Palatine Legion posts who had been called into service to hunt out and notify the lost battalion that they were to register at the Village hall on Tuesday or Wednesday night between the hours of 6 and 10 p. m.

Accompanying the Legion "footers" were F. Harmon and an assistant from the County Clerk's office.

From information received it appears that the registration cards of precincts 1 and 2 of Palatine in the selective service draft were probably destroyed along with the "spoiled" cards turned in to the county clerk at the time of the registration.

It is rumored that there were too many "generals" giving orders during the rush of registration and that much confusion resulted during which the cards of Palatine's historic lost battalion were destroyed.

Anyhow, communication with Washington resulted in orders to reregister the lost battalion and Paul Carroll, district supervisor of registration, devised the Paul Revere method of rounding up the missing segment of the army and notifying them to re-register.

Hunters Caught

The opening of the pheasant season Sunday saw some game warden activity around Palatine for the first time in many years.

Arrests were made for shooting on the highway and the violators fined $25 and costs each.

The game laws are very strict that there shall be no shooting from, on or across a highway and this favorite method of some hunters is now in the discard.

Local police also arrested violators for hunting inside the village limits, for which the fine was $5.00 and costs.

Rainy weather interferred with the comfort of the hunters during the opening days of the season and contributed much to the safety of the birds.

Eight hunters were arrested in Arlington Heights Sunday for shooting within the village. Each was fined $5.00 and cost by Judge Behrens. They were all Chicago men, except two who came from Effingham.

Foley and Allen Fill First Army Quota of District One

Pals Thru School, Bill and John Enter Army Together

John Allen and Wm. Foley, of Arlington Heights, are filling the first quota for draft district number 1.

Two Local Volunteers Will Report Monday For Induction

Almost inseparable since the days of grade school, William Foley and John Allen of Arlington Heights are filling the first quota of draft district one and will report for induction into army service at 7:30 a. m. Monday morning.

D. R. Rippey, chairman of the draft board received word Tuesday that the draft quota for this district was two. He found it easy to fill and selecting two men from the local volunteers, he issued the orders that Foley and Allen have been awaiting since they volunteered for enlistment.

The two boys have signified no service preference except that it be land duty. They hope that they will be able to remain together. Foley graduated from Arlington Heights high school in 1936 and Allen a year later.

The latter has had two years training in the ROTC, attending a school of mines and mineralogy, a year at the University of Illinois and a semester at Armour's Institute. Wiliam entered the Northern Trust bank immediately after his graduation and is leaving their employ with the assurance that there will be a job waiting for him after his year's training.

Ferd Weidner, 921 North Dunton, Arlington Heights joined the ranks of reeruits of the technical branch of the air corps at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, last week and in another week or two will be on his way to Hawaii where he will probably be stationed for the duration of the three years for which he has signed up. Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Englebert Weidner, was quick to take advantage of an announcement of two thousand vacancies in the air corps and immediately asked for the three year enlistment instead of the one he was so certain that he was going to like it.

Walter M. Mueller, route 1, Arlington Heights, has been assigned to Scott field in Illinois for his technical training in the air corps.

Albert Duenn, another Arlington Heights boy, is in the same position as Allen and Foley, except that he has not yet been ordered to report. He has volunteered for service but will necessarily wait for quota assignment.

U. S. To Hold Special Drawing for Palatine

The general public and especially Palatine men who registered this week are invited to attend a public drawing of draft numbers to be held in the high school gymnasium Friday evening at eight o'clock when Major Vic Kleber, chairman of the Illinois Selective administration, assisted by Paul D. Armstrong, state director will publicly draw the numbers that will be assigned to the members of the "lost battalion." ---men between the ages of 18 and 35 who reside in precincts one and two, which comprises all of the village of Palatine.

201 of the 211 missing registrants signed by last night.

Rededication of St. John's Evangelical Church Sunday

Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake, Former Pastor, To Deliver Sermon

Plans have now been completed to make the rededication of St. John Evangelical church of Arlington Heights a memorable event in the history of the congregation. A complete program of rededication services has been arranged in which the entire community and surrounding communities may share.

The main rededication services will be held on Sunday, November 17, at which time the Rev. John H. Ellerbrake of Hanover township will deliver the dedicatory message at the morning service which commences at 10:30 o'clock. He will also speak briefly in the German language. Mr. William Ladwig of River Forest will be the guest soloist at both services. The senior choir will sing the anthem, "Great Is the Lord" by Edward B. Norman.

REV. J. H. ELLERBRAKE

The Rev. Frederick W. Schroeder, of Chicago, president of the North Illinois Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church, and incidentally the president-elect of Eden Theological Seminary of Webster Groves, Mo., will deliver a consecration sermon at the afternoon service which begins at three o'clock. The pastors and members and friends of the neighboring Evangelical and Reformed churches have been given a special invitation to attend this service. The pastors will extend the greetings of their respective congregations. The Junior choir will render the anthem, "Thanks Be To God" by Stanley Dickson. A solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Liddle, will be sung by Mr. Ladwig.

A "Community Thanksgiving Eve Service" will be held at eight o'clock on Wednesday, November 20, and to which the members of the various churches of the community have been invited. The Rev. Herman McCoy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights, will deliver the sermon on the subject, "Let Us Give Thanks."

The Rev. Reuben C. Schellhase, pastor of the Methodist church, and the host pastor, the Rev. R. J. Kalwitz will help lead this community thanksgiving service. The combined choirs of the three churches will sing two anthems under the direction of Mr. Jack Everett.

On Sunday, November 24, a "Memorial Service" will be held in the morning at ten thirty o'clock at which time a beautiful memorial gift will be dedicated.

On Sunday, December 1, the celebration of Holy Communion will be held together with the dedication of another beautiful memorial gift. New members will also be received into the fellowship of this congregation at this service.

On Wednesday, December 4, the sound film, "The Romance of the Bible," will be shown in the church at 8:00 p. m.

The final service of rededication will be the appearance of the Bell chorus in concert in this church on Wednesday evening, December 11, at 8:15 p. m.

The members of St. John Evangelical congregation have intended for several years to enlarge their house of worship so that a more effective program of Christian education might be carried out. The church will now seat three hundred people comfortably.

In keeping with the new liturgical arrangement, a center aisle new leads directly to the altar. New chancel furniture, woodwork, and reredos have been furnished in the front of the church with new carpeting laid around the altar and reredos and down the center aisle. The altar will have new brassware and a beautifully painted picture, 'Christ In Gethsemane" will be hung above the altar. The nave will have six beautiful cathedral lanterns hanging from the ceiling and one in the vestibule. The church has been beautifully redecorated by Mr. D. Friedrichs of Mt. Prospect and which redecoration has been very harmoniously blended with the new stained glass windows which have been installed. The general contractors of the building have been Niemeyer and Weide and the congregation wishes to congratulate them for their excellent workmanship.

The pastor, the Rev. R. J. Kalwitz wishes especially to thank the many members and friends of the congregation who have worked hard for several weeks to make the rededication of the church possible on this Sunday, November 17. The pastor says he did not know which was more inspiring, the newly enlarged and beautifully decorated church, or the untiring efforts of the members, but he believed it was the latter.

To help make the rededication services a memorable one, a twenty-eight page "Rededicatory Booklet" has been prepared which contains the pictures of the church, the various organizations, of former pastors, and interesting historical facts, and an explanation of the liturgical arrangement of St. John's church. These booklets can be purchased at the various rededication services by members and friends of the congregation. Free programs of the rededication services will be provided to all who attend.

He actively opposed the spread of Nazism and in the summer of 1938 was forced to flee with his family to America.

His Tuesday evening talk will cover many of his experiences in the struggle against dictatorship and make it clear why he determined to become a citizen of the United States.

Arlington Boys Use Planes to Reach Hunting Grounds

Four Arlington Heights young men used planes to reach desired hunting grounds this week. All four left from the Ravenwood airport Wednesday morning. The destination of Carl Behrens, of Scarsdale and M. F. Boss, 211 N. Belmont was 750 miles from Arlington Heights, in the Ozarks, where a relative of Mr. Boss has a 2,000 acre estate 15 miles from the nearest town. There are few pheasants in that country, but lots of wild turkey, quail, etc.

The other plane was occupied by Robert Hansing and Ed. Geisen, whose destination was Minnesota. The weather bureau report snow in that state but Pilot Hansing was confident that he would experience no difficulty.

Theodore Militzer Delights Grade School Audience

by MELVIN ANDERSON

"Music will tell a story!" These were the words spoken preceding the presentation of a suite of music, "The Wizard of Oz,"as composed and performed for the first time by Theodore Militzer before the student assembly of the North school Friday.

The students were delighted as Mr. Militzer related the story of the Wizard of Oz, and gave his musical interpretation of the characters through the creativeness of his own imagination. It is only through the mind of an artist such as Mr. Militzer that such impressions can become real to the listener.

Mr. Militzer demonstrated mastery of form in the development of each theme. Not only did each theme receive a complete development, but there was great artistry displayed in the way they were handled.

Contrast was found throughout. Never did one feel that the suite was repetitious in any respect. The languid "Dorothy" theme was in complete contrast to the rusty "Tin-woodman" theme or the loose-jointed "Scarecrow" theme. Pathos, fright, and humor were all experienced in this musical drama.

Mr. Militzer is an artist of first rank at the piano keyboard as well as in composition. The skilled artistry of this pianist gave the composition a complete meaning.

The students of the north school not only felt singularly honored because of the fact that this was the first performance but that Mr. Militzer has graciously dedicated his suite, "Wizard of Oz," to them. It was an experience long to be remembered, and which will make them cognizant of the fact that in their own community lives the composer and artist himself.

Choir and Choraleers Of Methodist Church To Give Concert Sunday

The combined choirs of the Methodist church and the Choraleers will present their sacred concert at the Methodist church in Arlington Heights on Sunday, November 17 at 3:30 p. m.

These two groups consisting of 65 voices will present a concert which promises to be one of the most outstanding ever presented in this community.

Among the soloists present will be Miss Claire Whalen, coloratura soprano and soloist for one of the largest Catholic churches in Chicago., Miss Ella Hettisse, contralto, member of the civic opera chorus, and Charles Patio baritone, former member of the Galveston Light Opera Company. Also featured will be Jeanette Manley organist, well known throughout the northwest towns for her excellent musicianship.

All lovers of good music are cordially invited to attend. There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses of the two organizations.

Questionnaires Go To The First Hundred

Questionnaires were mailed last week by the district one draft board to the first hundred names on the eligibility list. The men are given five days in which to fill out the questionnaires. Due to the double holiday of Sunday and Armistice Day, many did not receive their questionnaires until Tuesday.

Many of the questionnaires will be returned as regulations require that they be filled out in either ink or on a typewriter.

Those desiring questionnaire aid can secure it without cost to themselves by applying to the selective service advisory board for the district, the members of which are Paul M. Godehn, chairman, Brinker road, Barrington; Andrew J. Dallstream, Barrington township and Arthur J. Donovan, Cuba township, Barrington. No announcement has yet been made as to when and where these men can be reached.

Dr. J. A. Cousins, 511 Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights and Dr. J. C. Schmidtke, Palatine, have been named as the physicians who will conduct the examinations of the boys assigned to service. This examination is not made until after the individual has been called by the local draft board. If the physician finds a boy unfit for army training, the local draft board assigns another to take his place.

Under present regulations, members of the draft board have no right to exercise any influence regarding enlistment or otherwise. They are there to see that government regulations are followed in their entirety.

Ample bulletin space is provided in the Arlington Heights headquarters for the posting of all orders and instructions, where they are available to public inspection.

The master numbers are being assigned to the entire list of registrants, and additional questionnaires will be mailed when such instructions are received by the draft board.

The chairman of the local board is D. R. Rippey and V. A. Pecchia is secretary. The third member is Robert Utpadel, Wheeling. Chief Clerk is Frank Smith.

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 17.

The Golden Text was, "He that loveth his life shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal" (John 12:25).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is" (1 John 3:2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man was and is God's image or idea, even the infinite expression of infinite Mind, and immortal man is coexistent and cotemporal with that Mind. Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (p 336).

Parents are urged to attend and become acquainted with the place in which your child spends most of his time and to learn to know better the teacher who has charge of him during most of his waking hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Capps returned this week-end from a months vacation trip through the southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scherf and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art Hahn of Chicago.

Mr. Stanley Wilkins is doing a bit of duck hunting in southern Illinois this season and finding the catch good.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Walters were hosts to their bridge club for dinner and cards on Saturday evening.

Woman's Club To Entertain Juniors Nov. 27

All members of the Woman's club and the Junior club are asked to keep in mind the change in date of the next program, which will take place on the evening of November 27 at 8 p. m. in the field house, when the Junior club will be guests of the senior club.

Howard Renwick Cannon, well known book reviewer of Oak Park will present a book review and special music will be on the program.

EPWORTH LEAGUE NOTES

Following the devotional topic, which was led by Margaret Allison last Sunday evening at the Epworth League of the Methodist church, a social hour with games and refreshments was enjoyed by the group. The league will convene again on next Sunday evening at the regular time and all young people in the community are invited to attend.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Torchbearers Work For Conservation Of Nature Honors

The Torchbearer group of Campfire girls is the highest rank to reach in this organization, one which requires hard work, and which broadens the girls general knowledge.

At present the girls of this group are working on Conservation of Nature, which includes such interesting subjects as soil erosion, balance in nature, illustrated studies of an interesting community in the state and a comparison of the girls' local community now and 100 years ago. The girls may choose one of these to work on, and during the year must prepare a special article on this subject.

Monday evening the girls were fortunate to hear Mr. J. Y. Beaty talk on "Balance in Nature," which was a great help in their work on this subject. Mrs. John Kumler is guardian of this group.

Woodgatherers Work For Advancement

The members of the Woodgatherers, second rank of Campfire girls, are working hard to accomplish the requirements of the year in this rank. One of the requirements is the making of the ceremonial headbands, which are made of beads, and which are designed by the girls themselves. Two members of the local group have had their bands chosen for Guardian Bulletins by officials of the Campfire Headquarters and several girls have completed their headbands.

This group plans some special event for each month and at present a party is in the offing.

Officers of this group are Jane Hayes, president; Jean Freyermuth vice president; Patsy Collins, secretary, and Carla Bloecher, treasurer. Mrs. Ray Hayes is guardian.

One way of earning honor beads is through the writing of publicity and the following report is the work of the president of the Woodgatherers and gives a resume of the work of the year to date.

WOOD GATHERER'S WORK

We first received our Camp Fire Girl Health Charts and learned how to use them. We then worked on our beaded headbands, which are of original design, symbolizing the owner's Indian name. We had our first outdoor meal in the Elk Grove Forest Preserve in one of the new shelters. While we were out in the Forest Preserve we drew silhouettes of five trees we saw there and later drew them on green construction paper and glued them on to tan construction paper.

We also made covers from cloth for our notebooks and embroidered some of them with yarn. We took a hike out to the Arlington Park subdivision, and while we were out there we saw some milkweed. We decided to paint the pods and make winter bouquets. We also learned the names of six different weeds. We are also working on Home and Citizenship Craft honors.

Signed: President of Woodgatherer's Group.

OES Notes

The next meeting of the Chapter will be held Thursday, Nov. 14. This will be the Annual meeting of the Chapter for the purpose of electing a new corps of officers for the ensuing year, receiving reports of the officers and the transaction of regular business.

There will be initiation and it is hoped all members will be present. Visitors are always welcome.

There will also be the celebration of those having birthdays in November. If you were not present during this year around your birthday, you may bring your money to the Chapter at this meeting and receive your gift that is waiting for you.

LARRY LEE LEVINE

This 2½ year old boy has a very busy time from morn to night. First, he has two dogs, Peggy and Patsy to exercise; then there is his bicycle, but his greatest joy is an auto ride with his grandpa, Harry Levine. Larry Lee is too young to go hunting, but when dad brings home the rabbits, the youngster is on hand to oversee their prepartion for the oven.

Dad and mother are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Levine, 709 S. Highland ave.

BARBARA ANN EWERT

The mother of Barbara Ann, the young lady with the curls, never has to worry about the whereabouts of her daughter if she can see or hear "Happy" the wire haired terrier that is the bosom friend and playmate of his mistress. Barbara is only four years old and her greatest desire is to spend an entire day at her dad's shoe store and be allowed to open all those boxes on the shelves.

As you have perhaps guessed it, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ewert are the parents of this youngster.

Nurses Club Observe Their Second Birthday

President, Mrs. Paul Carroll, graduate of Evanston hospital.

Vice President, Mrs. Russell Ford, graduate of Christ hospital, Cincinnatti, Ohio.

Sec.-Treas., Mrs. A. G. Cubley, graduate of Ravenswood hospital.

The following have been chosen by the president to act as chairmen for the coming year.

Educational Program — Mrs. Adele Pino of St. Mary's hospital, Chicago; Mrs. Amy Brown, Montreal General hospital, Montreal, Canada.

Hostess Chairman — Mrs. W. Hartman, Ft. Wayne Lutheran hospital.

Christian Service Plans Dinner

The newly organized society for women in the Methodist church met in the church parlor Tuesday evening with its president, Mrs. Gene Heller, presiding.

A musical program had been arranged for the evening by the program chairman, Mrs. Marvin Prellberg, and Marilyn Bishop sang two numbers accompanied by Barbara Barrett. James Scherf and Gene Stroker played two clarinet duets accompanied at the piano by Miss Gemberling and Betty Gross played two piano solos.

Plans were made for a plunkett dinner which is being sponsored by the official board of the church with the assistance of the women's organization. This dinner will be held November 27 in the church dining room and in addition to the regular plunkett foods, turkey and two other kinds of meat will be served. The tickets for this affair are 50c a plate, and may be obtained from any member of the church.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Roy Dobbins underwent a surgical operation in the Evanston hospital on Monday.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, no section of our nation is free from the threat of natural catastrophe in the form of fire, flood, hurricane, explosion, epidemic, blizzard, drought, tornado, earthquake or other calamities of nature; and

Whereas, conditions in the world today necessitate an unprecedented peace time expansion of our Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, and

Whereas, the people of Arlington Heights must be given every opportunity to be trained in health and safety so that they may be ready for any emergency, and

Whereas, the needs of the disabled veterans of the World War for relief and service continue to increase, and

Whereas, the American Red Cross is the country's officially designated disaster relief and military welfare agency, equipped to render relief whenever disaster strikes, ready to assist and advise the veterans and present members of our armed forces, and prepared to conduct community programs of training in first aid, health and safety services;

Now, therefore, as Mayor of Arlington Heights, I hereby designate the period from Armistice Day to November 30, as the time when all our citizens who possibly can are to join the American Red Cross and I further urge that their membership contributions be prompt and generous.

Parents Urged To Visit Open House At Grade Schools

The week of November 10 to 16 is national education week and in honor of this the local grade schools are holding open house Thursday evening, November 14 from 7:30 p. m. to 10 p. m.

Parents are urged to attend and become acquainted with the place in which your child spends most of his time and to learn to know better the teacher who has charge of him during most of his waking hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Capps returned this week-end from a months vacation trip through the southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scherf and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art Hahn of Chicago.

Mr. Stanley Wilkins is doing a bit of duck hunting in southern Illinois this season and finding the catch good.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Walters were hosts to their bridge club for dinner and cards on Saturday evening.

Woman's Club To Entertain Juniors Nov. 27

All members of the Woman's club and the Junior club are asked to keep in mind the change in date of the next program, which will take place on the evening of November 27 at 8 p. m. in the field house, when the Junior club will be guests of the senior club.

Howard Renwick Cannon, well known book reviewer of Oak Park will present a book review and special music will be on the program.

EPWORTH LEAGUE NOTES

Following the devotional topic, which was led by Margaret Allison last Sunday evening at the Epworth League of the Methodist church, a social hour with games and refreshments was enjoyed by the group. The league will convene again on next Sunday evening at the regular time and all young people in the community are invited to attend.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Torchbearers Work For Conservation Of Nature Honors

The Torchbearer group of Campfire girls is the highest rank to reach in this organization, one which requires hard work, and which broadens the girls general knowledge.

At present the girls of this group are working on Conservation of Nature, which includes such interesting subjects as soil erosion, balance in nature, illustrated studies of an interesting community in the state and a comparison of the girls' local community now and 100 years ago. The girls may choose one of these to work on, and during the year must prepare a special article on this subject.

Monday evening the girls were fortunate to hear Mr. J. Y. Beaty talk on "Balance in Nature," which was a great help in their work on this subject. Mrs. John Kumler is guardian of this group.

Woodgatherers Work For Advancement

The members of the Woodgatherers, second rank of Campfire girls, are working hard to accomplish the requirements of the year in this rank. One of the requirements is the making of the ceremonial headbands, which are made of beads, and which are designed by the girls themselves. Two members of the local group have had their bands chosen for Guardian Bulletins by officials of the Campfire Headquarters and several girls have completed their headbands.

This group plans some special event for each month and at present a party is in the offing.

Officers of this group are Jane Hayes, president; Jean Freyermuth vice president; Patsy Collins, secretary, and Carla Bloecher, treasurer. Mrs. Ray Hayes is guardian.

One way of earning honor beads is through the writing of publicity and the following report is the work of the president of the Woodgatherers and gives a resume of the work of the year to date.

WOOD GATHERER'S WORK

We first received our Camp Fire Girl Health Charts and learned how to use them. We then worked on our beaded headbands, which are of original design, symbolizing the owner's Indian name. We had our first outdoor meal in the Elk Grove Forest Preserve in one of the new shelters. While we were out in the Forest Preserve we drew silhouettes of five trees we saw there and later drew them on green construction paper and glued them on to tan construction paper.

We also made covers from cloth for our notebooks and embroidered some of them with yarn. We took a hike out to the Arlington Park subdivision, and while we were out there we saw some milkweed. We decided to paint the pods and make winter bouquets. We also learned the names of six different weeds. We are also working on Home and Citizenship Craft honors.

Signed: President of Woodgatherer's Group.

OES Notes

The next meeting of the Chapter will be held Thursday, Nov. 14. This will be the Annual meeting of the Chapter for the purpose of electing a new corps of officers for the ensuing year, receiving reports of the officers and the transaction of regular business.

There will be initiation and it is hoped all members will be present. Visitors are always welcome.

There will also be the celebration of those having birthdays in November. If you were not present during this year around your birthday, you may bring your money to the Chapter at this meeting and receive your gift that is waiting for you.

LARRY LEE LEVINE

This 2½ year old boy has a very busy time from morn to night. First, he has two dogs, Peggy and Patsy to exercise; then there is his bicycle, but his greatest joy is an auto ride with his grandpa, Harry Levine. Larry Lee is too young to go hunting, but when dad brings home the rabbits, the youngster is on hand to oversee their prepartion for the oven.

Dad and mother are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Levine, 709 S. Highland ave.

BARBARA ANN EWERT

The mother of Barbara Ann, the young lady with the curls, never has to worry about the whereabouts of her daughter if she can see or hear "Happy" the wire haired terrier that is the bosom friend and playmate of his mistress. Barbara is only four years old and her greatest desire is to spend an entire day at her dad's shoe store and be allowed to open all those boxes on the shelves.

As you have perhaps guessed it, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ewert are the parents of this youngster.

Nurses Club Observe Their Second Birthday

Christian Service Plans Dinner

The newly organized society for women in the Methodist church met in the church parlor Tuesday evening with its president, Mrs. Gene Heller, presiding.

A musical program had been arranged for the evening by the program chairman, Mrs. Marvin Prellberg, and Marilyn Bishop sang two numbers accompanied by Barbara Barrett. James Scherf and Gene Stroker played two clarinet duets accompanied at the piano by Miss Gemberling and Betty Gross played two piano solos.

Plans were made for a plunkett dinner which is being sponsored by the official board of the church with the assistance of the women's organization. This dinner will be held November 27 in the church dining room and in addition to the regular plunkett foods, turkey and two other kinds of meat will be served. The tickets for this affair are 50c a plate, and may be obtained from any member of the church.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Roy Dobbins underwent a surgical operation in the Evanston hospital on Monday.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, no section of our nation is free from the threat of natural catastrophe in the form of fire, flood, hurricane, explosion, epidemic, blizzard, drought, tornado, earthquake or other calamities of nature; and

Whereas, conditions in the world today necessitate an unprecedented peace time expansion of our Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, and

Whereas, the people of Arlington Heights must be given every opportunity to be trained in health and safety so that they may be ready for any emergency, and

Whereas, the needs of the disabled veterans of the World War for relief and service continue to increase, and

Whereas, the American Red Cross is the country's officially designated disaster relief and military welfare agency, equipped to render relief whenever disaster strikes, ready to assist and advise the veterans and present members of our armed forces, and prepared to conduct community programs of training in first aid, health and safety services;

Now, therefore, as Mayor of Arlington Heights, I hereby designate the period from Armistice Day to November 30, as the time when all our citizens who possibly can are to join the American Red Cross and I further urge that their membership contributions be prompt and generous.

Testimonial Dinner Honors Retiring Miss Lillian Russell

More than a hundred guests gathered in the Mural Room of the Morrison Hotel last Thursday evening at a testimonial dinner in honor of Miss Lillian Russell, who has recently retired from the staff of the Onahan school of Norwood Park, after serving twelve years as a teacher there.

Among the guests were people from all walks of life — well known school authorities, business men and women, personal friends of Miss Russell and former pupils of yesterday and today — men and women, boys and girls whose lives have been made richer by her friendship and who were there to express in no uncertain terms their admiration and esteem.

Mr. Everett B. Mann, a civic leader of Norwood Park whose four children were fortunate enough to have been former pupils of Miss Russell, served as toast master. Many well known school authorities responded with toasts, among them Miss Mary I. Reynolds, former principal of the Onahan school and a former district superintendent of district one; Miss Anna P. Keller, present superintendent of district one; Miss Mary C. Gillies, the principal at the Onahan school; Major Frank L. Beals, an assistant superintendent in the Chicago schools and Colonel R. P. Davidson, head of the Northwestern Military and Naval Academy at Lake Geneva, also spoke.

All praised Miss Russell for the deep understanding and feeling that she has shown for all her pupils and particularly underprivileged boys who have been stimulated to their best endeavors under her leadership, and friendship.

Colonel and Mrs. Davidson have been friends of Miss Russell from her early childhood, and Miss Russell taught at the Military Academy of Colonel Davidson after her father's private school was absorbed into this organization.

Many letters and telegrams were read by the toastmaster from former pupils and friends of Miss Russell in Highland Park, Arlington Heights and Chicago. Among these was a greeting from Mr. Chapman of Santa Barbara, Cal., who was president of the Arlington Heights school board when Miss Russell was a teacher here. Another was received from Mr. A. R. Zool, who now resides in Millboro, Virginia, and who was principal of the Arlington Heights school when Miss Russell started to teach here. Russell Sturm and his wife, the former Gladys Hayford, who taught in Arlington Heights, also sent greetings.

Perhaps the greatest tribute paid to Miss Russell came from her former pupils who were present at the banquet. Their radiant faces expressed more eloquently than words their love and affection, as she stood to thank all for their kindness.

Major Frank L. Beals expressed his toast to Miss Russell in the words of Bessie A. Stanley:

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it; whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life is an inspiration and whose memory is a benediction."

Miss Russell taught in Arlington Heights for nine years prior to entering the Chicago system and is now at home at 533 S. Vail Ave., where she lives with her sister, Miss Irene Russell, principal of the Arlington Heights south side school.

Mr. Raymond Conger of Kobi, Japan, who has been a house guest of his brother and family, the A. M. Congers for the past few weeks, spent several days in New York City this week.

P.-T.A. Meeting Next Tuesday

Dr. Bertha Schafer, well known speaker on Social Hygiene, will speak before the members and friends of the Parent-Teacher association Tuesday evening.

Dr. Schafer talks constantly to parent and student groups on this important subject and Arlington Heights is indeed fortunate in having such a speaker. Dr. Schafer is a special consultant of the United States Public Health Service, a state board member of the Parent-Teacher association and is affiliated with many other organizations along the line of social hygiene.

The meeting will open at 8 p. m. in the north school assembly room. The general public is invited to attend.

Testimonial Dinner Honors Retiring Miss Lillian Russell

More than a hundred guests gathered in the Mural Room of the Morrison Hotel last Thursday evening at a testimonial dinner in honor of Miss Lillian Russell, who has recently retired from the staff of the Onahan school of Norwood Park, after serving twelve years as a teacher there.

Among the guests were people from all walks of life — well known school authorities, business men and women, personal friends of Miss Russell and former pupils of yesterday and today — men and women, boys and girls whose lives have been made richer by her friendship and who were there to express in no uncertain terms their admiration and esteem.

Mr. Everett B. Mann, a civic leader of Norwood Park whose four children were fortunate enough to have been former pupils of Miss Russell, served as toast master. Many well known school authorities responded with toasts, among them Miss Mary I. Reynolds, former principal of the Onahan school and a former district superintendent of district one; Miss Anna P. Keller, present superintendent of district one; Miss Mary C. Gillies, the principal at the Onahan school; Major Frank L. Beals, an assistant superintendent in the Chicago schools and Colonel R. P. Davidson, head of the Northwestern Military and Naval Academy at Lake Geneva, also spoke.

All praised Miss Russell for the deep understanding and feeling that she has shown for all her pupils and particularly underprivileged boys who have been stimulated to their best endeavors under her leadership, and friendship.

Colonel and Mrs. Davidson have been friends of Miss Russell from her early childhood, and Miss Russell taught at the Military Academy of Colonel Davidson after her father's private school was absorbed into this organization.

Many letters and telegrams were read by the toastmaster from former pupils and friends of Miss Russell in Highland Park, Arlington Heights and Chicago. Among these was a greeting from Mr. Chapman of Santa Barbara, Cal., who was president of the Arlington Heights school board when Miss Russell was a teacher here. Another was received from Mr. A. R. Zool, who now resides in Millboro, Virginia, and who was principal of the Arlington Heights school when Miss Russell started to teach here. Russell Sturm and his wife, the former Gladys Hayford, who taught in Arlington Heights, also sent greetings.

Perhaps the greatest tribute paid to Miss Russell came from her former pupils who were present at the banquet. Their radiant faces expressed more eloquently than words their love and affection, as she stood to thank all for their kindness.

Major Frank L. Beals expressed his toast to Miss Russell in the words of Bessie A. Stanley:

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained respect of intelligent men, the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it; whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life is an inspiration and whose memory is a benediction."

Miss Russell taught in Arlington Heights for nine years prior to entering the Chicago system and is now at home at 533 S. Vail Ave., where she lives with her sister, Miss Irene Russell, principal of the Arlington Heights south side school.

Mr. Raymond Conger of Kobi, Japan, who has been a house guest of his brother and family, the A. M. Congers for the past few weeks, spent several days in New York City this week.

P.-T.A. Meeting Next Tuesday

Dr. Bertha Schafer, well known speaker on Social Hygiene, will speak before the members and friends of the Parent-Teacher association Tuesday evening.

Dr. Schafer talks constantly to parent and student groups on this important subject and Arlington Heights is indeed fortunate in having such a speaker. Dr. Schafer is a special consultant of the United States Public Health Service, a state board member of the Parent-Teacher association and is affiliated with many other organizations along the line of social hygiene.

The meeting will open at 8 p. m. in the north school assembly room. The general public is invited to attend.

American Legion Auxiliary Notes

Mrs. Clarence L. Stadtler, 1002 W. Campbell st., will be hostess to the American Legion Auxiliary at its social meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The afternoon will be spent in sewing doll clothes to be sent at Christmas time to the children in Logan Cottage at the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans home at Normal, Ill.

Please bring socks and underwear for the veterans at Hines hospital to this meeting.

Regardless of bad weather Mrs. St. John and Mrs. Rector took an Armistice day treat to the veterans at Elgin hospital.

Mrs. E. A. Taylor was hostess to her bridge club on Friday afternoon for dessert. Mrs. Platte received high honors for the afternoon.

Miss Mary Heller, who teaches in LaSalle, Ill., spent the week-end in Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lawbaugh and family left Saturday morning for Sheffield, Iowa, where they plan to visit for the next few weeks.

Mr. Folkman has been enjoying a vacation the past few days, resting at home.

Bernice Blume celebrated her tenth birthday on Wednesday by having several friends in for a party.

Ruth Lois Gronert of Fremont st., underwent an appendectomy in the Walther Memorial hospital in Chicago this week.

Peace In Mind Is Of First Importance, Says Dr. Maier

American losses by suicide, nervous breakdowns and mental derangements are greater than its casualties by war, Dr. Walter A. Maier asserted Sunday in his coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour address over the Mutual Broadcasting System, under the sponsorship of the Lutheran Laymen's League.

"Before we can have peace in our war-scarred world," he declared, "we must have inner assurance, freedom from worries, spiritual peace in our hearts and homes. Money cannot grant that tranquility," Dr. Maier claimed, as he cited leaders in human affairs who were incessantly harassed by their wealth and position.

The avowed purpose of modern education is sometimes directed to unsettle the mind and produce a suspense of uncertainty, he declared, and he cited incidents of self-destruction in intellectual circles.

"Only when our consciences are freed from all accusing charges and through Christ we learn to trust God fully can we have the peace of mind and attitude of soul necessary to face the uncertainties of our future with calmness and courage."

Denying the repeatedly avowed claims for a warless world and disavowing the poisonous pacifism which, he declared, has usurped a constantly larger place in American churches, Dr. Maier insisted that the preaching of Christ's gospel with peace on earth and good will to men is the only effective check men can know against the terrors of another war—a war greater even than the horrors of the present conflict.

Christmas Seal Artist

Three children lifting up tiny voices in a carol of the season is the pictorial theme of the 1940 Christmas seal of the Arlington Heights health center. The annual seal sale will start November 25.

The cherubic faces expressing so vividly the perrennial spirit of youth and joy came from the brush of Felix Lewis Martini of Los Angeles. Though landscape painting is his hobby, Mr. Martini was delighted to turn to this close-up to present his charming picture of three happy, healthy children so earnestly united in song. Inspiration, too, must have come from the two daughters of the artist and a second hobby which is music.

Artist Martini was born in Milan, Italy, the son of a painter who had won many prizes in international exhibitions. His parents brought him to America when he was two and a half years old. When painting proved less lucrative in America the elder Martini turned to carving at Barre, Vermont. From him and from the well-known sculptor, Carlo Abate of Barre, young Martini received his first art instruction.

At seventeen he was a proficient carver earning wages as high as any carver in New England at that time. But this lasted only three years. Keeping a promise made to his father when he died. Martini turned to painting and a career that took him from Boston and Worcester to California.

Stories of picturesque California told to him by his grandmother first lured him to the west coast, but he admits it took several trips ultimately to convince him of the merits of the Golden state. His career has been varied by a period of teaching—art, of course—and once he tried his hand at "theatricals" as manager of a group of vaudeville performers. The proceeds from the sale of Mr. Martini's Christmas Seal will be used in our community to advance the work of the Arlington Heights health center.

IN MEMORIAM

Augusta Naske, Nov. 14, 1939.
In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away a year ago.
Long days, long nights you bore your pain,
Waiting for a cure, but all in vain.
God saw that you were suffering,
And that the hills were hard to climb
So he gently closed your eyes,
And whispered peace be thine.

Loving Daughter, Son-in-Law and Grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

Augusta Naske, Nov. 14, 1939.
In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away a year ago.
Long days, long nights you bore your pain,
Waiting for a cure, but all in vain.
God saw that you were suffering,
And that the hills were hard to climb
So he gently closed your eyes,
And whispered peace be thine.

Loving Daughter, Son-in-Law and Grandchildren.

With election over, Palatine forgets campaign bitterness and members of both parties turned out to see Norman Beckman, who voted for Willkie, pay his election bet to Ed. Grand Opening Of Local Tavern

Eddie's Castle Bar Plans Three-Day Celebration

Eddie J. Hinsberger, well known Arlington Heights tavern host, has announced plans for a 3-day grand opening celebration of his new Castle Bar at Evergreen Street and Northwest Highway.

The new Castle Bar has been completely redecorated in a modern, streamlined design; the walls and ceiling embodying a modernistic burgundy and beige color scheme; and a strikingly new four-sided walnut-mahogany bar is a feature of the cocktail lounge. The bar, built especially for the new premises, is said to be one of the most attractive in the northwest suburbs. Leather upholstered chromium stools and furniture, including wall booths, are finished in the same color design as the walls and ceiling. The dining-room and cocktail lounge will seat approximately 125 persons. Tables and chairs in the dining room are of modernistic chromium-leather construction.

Mr. Hinsberger stated that strolling musicians will entertain guests during the 3-day-and-evening "opening." Fresh cut roses will be given as favors to ladies. During the opening, the Castle Bar's new secret formula cocktail will be introduced. Very little is known about this particular refreshment, as its formula, according to Eddie Hinsberger, is a closely guarded secret. He describes it as superbly smooth, tantalizingly tasteful, (and slightly stimulating). For reasons unknown, we understand it is to be named the "Calamity Collins."

Arlington Heights Grid Team Wins from Fleck's 15-12

Arlington Travels To Wheaton This Sunday

Without the aid of a crystal ball, table rapping or Ouija board the salient factor in the Merchant's victory over the Chicago Flecks was predicted for you in last week's paper.

All Arlington's points were made by linemen . . . Bill Langhorst,—one touchdown and point after . . . Bill Beckman—one touchdown . . . Otto Masny—one safety.

Last week's paper said, "Led by Big Bill Langhorst the line will pave the way." It can now be added they not only paved the way, they also layed it out, dug it, tested it and dragged it right along behind them.

Big Langhorst scored on a 25 yard pass from Mel Garms, running about 15 yards further for the payoff. Beckman, the hard driving guard, proved anew his mental alertness in recovering a Fleck fumble for the second tally. Langhorst and Garms accounted for the extra point.

Superstitious Otto Masny couldn't stand the pressure of the unlucky 13 points, he broke thru the Fleck line to tumble a ball carrier four yards behind the goal line for a safety and two points, bringing the game to its total of 15 to 12.

The Flecks scored the first tally with ease on an eight yard smash off tackle. With a yard to go and four downs to do it, they scored their second touchdown on the third down thru a stubborn Merchant defense.

The game was hard fought and featured, particularly, for a sandlot game, good sportsmanship. The Arlington lads consider the Flecks one of the smoothest teams they met this year, as well as a most worthy opponent.

The Merchants play at Wheaton this Sunday and hope their many loyal followers will journey down there and root for their third straight win.

'Penny Information Service' Established By Social Security Board

The Social Security Board has established what might be called a "Penny Information Service," Mr. F. L. Roberts, manager of the 1045 Lawrence ave. field office of the Social Security Board announced this week. He stated that any worker who wants to know how his old-age and survivors insurance account stands can get the answer by filling out a post card form obtainable at any Field office and mailing it to the board. It will cost the worker just one cent for the postage stamp.

Demos and Republicans Enjoyed This Scene

With election over, Palatine forgets campaign bitterness and members of both parties turned out to see Norman Beckman, who voted for Willkie, pay his election bet to Ed. Haseman, the Roosevelt enthusiast. Mrs. Haseman went along for the "ride." Spectators from left to right are Irwin Hahnfeldt, Merle Hartmann, Bill Zelesdorf and Raymond Engelking.

Grand Opening Of Local Tavern

Eddie's Castle Bar Plans Three-Day Celebration

Eddie J. Hinsberger, well known Arlington Heights tavern host, has announced plans for a 3-day grand opening celebration of his new Castle Bar at Evergreen Street and Northwest Highway.

The new Castle Bar has been completely redecorated in a modern, streamlined design; the walls and ceiling embodying a modernistic burgundy and beige color scheme; and a strikingly new four-sided walnut-mahogany bar is a feature of the cocktail lounge. The bar, built especially for the new premises, is said to be one of the most attractive in the northwest suburbs. Leather upholstered chromium stools and furniture, including wall booths, are finished in the same color design as the walls and ceiling. The dining-room and cocktail lounge will seat approximately 125 persons. Tables and chairs in the dining room are of modernistic chromium-leather construction.

Mr. Hinsberger stated that strolling musicians will entertain guests during the 3-day-and-evening "opening." Fresh cut roses will be given as favors to ladies. During the opening, the Castle Bar's new secret formula cocktail will be introduced. Very little is known about this particular refreshment, as its formula, according to Eddie Hinsberger, is a closely guarded secret. He describes it as superbly smooth, tantalizingly tasteful, (and slightly stimulating). For reasons unknown, we understand it is to be named the "Calamity Collins."

Arlington Heights Grid Team Wins from Fleck's 15-12

Arlington Travels To Wheaton This Sunday

Without the aid of a crystal ball, table rapping or Ouija board the salient factor in the Merchant's victory over the Chicago Flecks was predicted for you in last week's paper.

All Arlington's points were made by linemen . . . Bill Langhorst,—one touchdown and point after . . . Bill Beckman—one touchdown . . . Otto Masny—one safety.

Last week's paper said, "Led by Big Bill Langhorst the line will pave the way." It can now be added they not only paved the way, they also layed it out, dug it, tested it and dragged it right along behind them.

Big Langhorst scored on a 25 yard pass from Mel Garms, running about 15 yards further for the payoff. Beckman, the hard driving guard, proved anew his mental alertness in recovering a Fleck fumble for the second tally. Langhorst and Garms accounted for the extra point.

Superstitious Otto Masny couldn't stand the pressure of the unlucky 13 points, he broke thru the Fleck line to tumble a ball carrier four yards behind the goal line for a safety and two points, bringing the game to its total of 15 to 12.

The Flecks scored the first tally with ease on an eight yard smash off tackle. With a yard to go and four downs to do it, they scored their second touchdown on the third down thru a stubborn Merchant defense.

The game was hard fought and featured, particularly, for a sandlot game, good sportsmanship. The Arlington lads consider the Flecks one of the smoothest teams they met this year, as well as a most worthy opponent.

The Merchants play at Wheaton this Sunday and hope their many loyal followers will journey down there and root for their third straight win.

'Penny Information Service' Established By Social Security Board

The Social Security Board has established what might be called a "Penny Information Service," Mr. F. L. Roberts, manager of the 1045 Lawrence ave. field office of the Social Security Board announced this week. He stated that any worker who wants to know how his old-age and survivors insurance account stands can get the answer by filling out a post card form obtainable at any Field office and mailing it to the board. It will cost the worker just one cent for the postage stamp.

Credit Association Meeting Is Saturday; Welcome Members, Wives

The new date for the annual meeting of the Fox Valley Production Credit association of Geneva, has been set for this Saturday, starting at 10 o'clock a. m. The meeting will be held at the Sugar Grove community house, Sugar Grove.

"Extensive plans are being made," reports Leigh A. Herald Asks Cooperation Of Bowling Alleys

Bowling news has become increasingly important to those who are following that sport, but there are now so many alleys in the territory covered by the Paddock Publications that to make possible such publication it has become necessary to ask alleys to cooperate by contracting for a minimum of $1.50 a week advertising space.

Car Waiting For Freight Boosted By Truck Across Tracks

William Hugo, Sr., suffered a wrenched back and bruises when his car was boosted over the Soo Line railroad tracks into the ditch on the opposite side by a beer truck that failed to stop for the lights last Friday evening.

The signal lights were flashing and Mr. Hugo stopped his car about 100 feet from the tracks. Insomniac Declines Sleep Job

An old stage tradition, that your true performer does not play a role for which he is not suited, cost an extra—who shall be nameless—an $11 job. Director Ted Reed needed a middle-aged man for a small part in "Those Were the Days (At Good Old Siwash)." "This is easy," Reed explained to the extra. "You're a college professor. It's night. You're asleep here on this bed. William Holden sneaks in and turns back all of your clocks an hour. You just lie there without moving. You're asleep." "Mr. Reed, I appreciate your interest, but I cannot accept the role. It isn't suited for me." "Not suited?" "No, Mr. Reed. I cannot sleep. I suffer from insomnia."

Many more such happy surprises for your coming birthdays Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Schwennesen enjoyed the week-end at the home of Mrs. Schwennesen's folks in Streator, Illinois.

The regular meeting of the Wheeling Center Parent-Teachers association, was held Tuesday evening, November 12, at the Wheeling Center school, Palatine and Schoenbeck rds., at 8:00 o'clock. There was an exceptionally good attendance as the guest speaker, Mrs. Dickey, president of the Northwest Council of Parent-Teachers, and the local girl scout troop gave a short program on "Safety With Fire." Later in the evening the girl scouts received their pins at a very impressive ceremony.

The gentlemen of the association were the hosts of the evening and served delicious refreshments, of hot dogs, donuts and coffee.

The gents had just about as good a time as possible preparing their feast, as their lusty bellows could be heard from the kitchen throughout the meeting. Of course we must comment on their attire. They really looked too cute for words in their little aprons. Really gents, the ladies enjoyed themselves so much at your party that you may repeat your success at any time. If you don't think the men enjoyed themselves just ask any of them what Eddie Mueller cooked the hot dogs in? I do believe they even left the kitchen in better order than they found it.

Mrs. Fowler, teacher of the lower grades, and Mr. John Dawson, teacher of the upper grades of the Wheeling Center school, have asked us to make a request of the civic minded folks of the community. Does anyone have a discarded ping pong table not in use, that could be used by the children of the school, also do you have any old games or books that might be used in the basement for recreation hours indoors. If so, please call 7048-J or 7074-R and some one will pick up anything you might have to give.

Herald Asks Cooperation Of Bowling Alleys

Bowling news has become increasingly important to those who are following that sport, but there are now so many alleys in the territory covered by the Paddock Publications that to make possible such publication it has become necessary to ask alleys to cooperate by contracting for a minimum of $1.50 a week advertising space.

Car Waiting For Freight Boosted By Truck Across Tracks

William Hugo, Sr., suffered a wrenched back and bruises when his car was boosted over the Soo Line railroad tracks into the ditch on the opposite side by a beer truck that failed to stop for the lights last Friday evening.

The signal lights were flashing and Mr. Hugo stopped his car about 100 feet from the tracks. The driver of the truck apparently saw neither the signal nor the stopping car and crashed into the rear of the car sending it across the tracks. Fortunately for Mr. Hugo the signals were operating for a freight train which had stopped just before reaching the crossing.

Insomniac Declines Sleep Job

An old stage tradition, that your true performer does not play a role for which he is not suited, cost an extra—who shall be nameless—an $11 job. Director Ted Reed needed a middle-aged man for a small part in "Those Were the Days (At Good Old Siwash)." "This is easy," Reed explained to the extra. "You're a college professor. It's night. You're asleep here on this bed. William Holden sneaks in and turns back all of your clocks an hour. You just lie there without moving. You're asleep." "Mr. Reed, I appreciate your interest, but I cannot accept the role. It isn't suited for me." "Not suited?" "No, Mr. Reed. I cannot sleep. I suffer from insomnia."

The regular meeting of the Wheeling Center Parent-Teachers association, was held Tuesday evening, November 12, at the Wheeling Center school, Palatine and Schoenbeck rds., at 8:00 o'clock. There was an exceptionally good attendance as the guest speaker, Mrs. Dickey, president of the Northwest Council of Parent-Teachers, and the local girl scout troop gave a short program on "Safety With Fire." Later in the evening the girl scouts received their pins at a very impressive ceremony.

The gentlemen of the association were the hosts of the evening and served delicious refreshments, of hot dogs, donuts and coffee.

The gents had just about as good a time as possible preparing their feast, as their lusty bellows could be heard from the kitchen throughout the meeting. Of course we must comment on their attire. They really looked too cute for words in their little aprons. Really gents, the ladies enjoyed themselves so much at your party that you may repeat your success at any time. If you don't think the men enjoyed themselves just ask any of them what Eddie Mueller cooked the hot dogs in? I do believe they even left the kitchen in better order than they found it.

Mrs. Fowler, teacher of the lower grades, and Mr. John Dawson, teacher of the upper grades of the Wheeling Center school, have asked us to make a request of the civic minded folks of the community. Does anyone have a discarded ping pong table not in use, that could be used by the children of the school, also do you have any old games or books that might be used in the basement for recreation hours indoors. If so, please call 7048-J or 7074-R and some one will pick up anything you might have to give.

Powell Smashes 2,000 Pieces Of Pottery During High-Jinks Of "I Love You Again"

More than 2,000 individual pottery items were smashed to bits for a sequence of the new comedy, "I Love You Again," costarring William Powell and Myrna Loy, and coming to the Palatine Theatre Sunday for an engagement of four days.

For weeks studio shoppers visited the numerous pottery plants in and adjacent to Los Angeles, buying up faulty pieces with which to fill the racks, to be upset during the film's action by Powell and his partner-in-crime, Frank McHugh.

In these hectic days there's nothing like youth to refresh the heart . . . and there's nothing like the Five Little Peppers to bring you youth at its gayest! In their latest picture they may be "Five Little Peppers In Trouble," but fiction's most irrepressible family is sure to come out on top. Advance reports credit the film, which plays Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with "I Love You Again," with being the best of the popular Columbia series.

A left-handed suit was worn by Warner Baxter while he was working on "Earthbound," the 20th Century-Fox film in which he is co-starred with Andrea Leeds this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Baxter appears in the amazing picture as a ghost. For technical reasons his right side appeared to be his left on the screen and production was halted when this was discovered. A duplicate coat, with pockets and buttons in reverse, was made in a hurry.

The Navy's war games are scuttled and the romance between costars Nancy Kelly and Jon Hall is nearly blasted when "Skipper," the adopted sea-going baby, is smuggled aboard the flagship in "Sailor's Lady," the frantically funny 20th Century-Fox picture which appears this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"He Stayed For Breakfast," hectic, hilarious new Columbia comedy at the Catlow Theatre with Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas co-starred, ends its laugh-packed run on Friday. The film, which was directed by Alexander Hall, has been hailed for its scintillant romance. Alan Marshal, Eugene Pallette and Una O'Connor head the featured cast.

Joan Bennett, Francis Lederer, Lloyd Nolan and Ann Sten have the starring roles in the new 20th Century-Fox film, "The Man I Married," coming to the Catlow Theatre on Saturday for one day only. Advance reports herald the picture as surprising dramatic entertainment.

Revealing the amazing experiences of a beautiful girl with the husband she thought she knew, "The Man I Married," is a new and different kind of picture. Joan Bennett plays the wife of Francis Lederer, while Lloyd Nolan is an American correspondent. Anna Sten has a highly dramatic role worthy of her talent.

Others prominently featured in the strong cast of "The Man I Married" are Otto Kruger, Maria Ouspenskakya, Ludwig Stossel and Johnny Russell.

Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, man and wife in real life, play man and wife together on the screen in Paramount's "I Want A Divorce," the sprightly comedy-drama of marital difficulties which will open on Sunday at the Catlow Theatre. Joan and Dick, ably supported by such performers as Gloria Dickson, Frank Fay, Jessie Ralph and Conrad Nagel, are cast as a young couple who renew their acquaintance in—of all places—a divorce court, where Joan's sister, played by Gloria Dickson, is getting a divorce. Dick happens to be a law student himself; and a natural sequence of events finds Dick marrying Joan after he has passed his bar exams. And from this point things really go hilarious, with Dick sort of eager to become a divorce lawyer and increase that way.

The biggest movie fire since 20th Century-Fox filmed "In Old Chicago" raged for a week on a ranch near Agoura, Cal., where scenes were laid for Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Brigham Young," by Louis Bromfield, which comes to the Catlow theatre on Wednesday for two days.

The scenes picture the burning the Morman town of Mauvoo, Ill., in 1846, and more than a score of houses and barns were set afire. Tyrone Power, who is starred, Linda Darnell, and Dean Jagger who portrays Brigham Young, are shown with several hundred others vainly fighting the flames.

Don't you really buy a car for what it can do?

Doesn't the big kick come from being first off the mark and winging up hills as though they weren't there?

There's only one place in the world you can get such things—from a power plant that's up to its job.

But here's the interesting thing the new Buick proves: With enough power, you can have that flashing action — and economy too!

Our FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion let us use a standard high gear that has the same economical result as so-called gas-saving devices.

They step up mileage as much as 10% or 15%, wing you down the road at 50 on a 30-mile fuel diet.

They even make driving easier, since they give so much reserve power that you'll have less need for shifting gears, whether it's to top a hill or pick up quickly in slow-moving traffic.

We're not saying style and comfort and size don't count. We wouldn't have worked out "mass-stream" styling, BuiCoil Springing and Buick's new roominess if they didn't.

Powell Smashes 2,000 Pieces Of Pottery During High-Jinks Of "I Love You Again"

More than 2,000 individual pottery items were smashed to bits for a sequence of the new comedy, "I Love You Again," costarring William Powell and Myrna Loy, and coming to the Palatine Theatre Sunday for an engagement of four days.

For weeks studio shoppers visited the numerous pottery plants in and adjacent to Los Angeles, buying up faulty pieces with which to fill the racks, to be upset during the film's action by Powell and his partner-in-crime, Frank McHugh.

In these hectic days there's nothing like youth to refresh the heart . . . and there's nothing like the Five Little Peppers to bring you youth at its gayest! In their latest picture they may be "Five Little Peppers In Trouble," but fiction's most irrepressible family is sure to come out on top. Advance reports credit the film, which plays Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with "I Love You Again," with being the best of the popular Columbia series.

A left-handed suit was worn by Warner Baxter while he was working on "Earthbound," the 20th Century-Fox film in which he is co-starred with Andrea Leeds this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. A duplicate coat, with pockets and buttons in reverse, was made in a hurry.

The Navy's war games are scuttled and the romance between costars Nancy Kelly and Jon Hall is nearly blasted when "Skipper," the adopted sea-going baby, is smuggled aboard the flagship in "Sailor's Lady," the frantically funny 20th Century-Fox picture which appears this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Four more days now and we'll be seeing about 200 of you at St. Andrew's hall in Park Ridge for that lecture "Behind the 8-ball" presented by Prof. Albert V. Maurer of Concordia. From what we hear almost everybody will be there. Vera Koehneke of Arlington is making plans for about thirty to go from there in a body. Bensenville and Itasca usually come in a large group, and then there are those from Schaumburg, Roselle, Niles, Barrington, and we're hoping for Palatine. Our section right here should be able to fill half the hall. So come on, all of you, get a crowd together or ask your Christian Service or Cultural Activities chairman to plan for the transportation.

We received a letter the other day from George Hinrichs of Palatine and it surely looks as though they are busy up that way. They had their monthly meeting the other day and decided to give the play "Sound Your Horn" on November 28 and 29. Several weeks ago they had a scavenger hunt and last week enjoyed a Hallowe'en party. Both times they had a hilarious time.

Now, George, you asked that we "Cooperate and give you a boost in this column;" we did, so now will you cooperate with us and bring a large group to this lecture next Sunday. "How's about it?" We'll be looking for you.

From northwest we go to southeast and look at a letter from Eleanor Scutz of Redeemer, Park Ridge. They, too, have been busy down there. On October 18 they spent a wonderful evening at the opera. They saw the San Carlo production of Carmen.

Betty Keuer, their Christian Service chairman, has made a very attractive box for their stamps and Lutheran publications. They have it right in front of their church door and so their members are constantly reminded to bring their stamps and publications. This might be a good idea for some of the other Leagues to follow.

The girls of their League (you know it's an all-girl League) helped to sew toys for the Ladies' Aid Christmas sale held recently.

For the District-wide hanky shower for the Orphan Home these girls each contributed one for a girl and one for a boy. That's more than most do.

We're really traveling this week so let's go over to Higgins-Canfield. Last Saturday the International Convention Northwestern Station Receptionists had a party at the roller-rink. However, very few of those 30 or 40 that were there were receptionists. Most of them were there just for the fun of skating. Fourteen from Arlington (another one of those on-the-spur-of-the-moment get-togethers) one from Itasca, four from Norwood Park, four from Niles, one from Park Ridge, and the rest from Higgins-Canfield made up the group.

While we're on this subject, the Walther League Roller Skating club held its first meeting Monday night. So far, we haven't heard any of the details, but will let you know just as soon as we learn of them.

Besides sending us the resume of the Bensenville history, Ruby Koehler writes that they had a party last month for all members and former members. They had a grand attendance and hope to get many of the old members to rejoin them.

On January 30, 1931, a group of young people, led by Walter Gerth, met to form the Young People's Lutheran club. At the next meeting on February 13, the following officers were elected: Elmer Piske, president; Albert Kucker, vice-president; Dorothy Martin (Mrs. Harold Pfluger) secretary; Adeline Forke, treasurer; Evelyn Busse (Mrs. Harold Gatzke), librarian. Among the first members were Bertha March (Mrs. Herb Haas), Edwin Hokmeyer, and Myrtha Weinrich, who has remained with the league since its beginning and still is a very active member.

In 1932 several donations were made and a program was given at the graduation of the 8th graders at Zion Lutheran school.

In April, 1933, the Young Lutherans' club became an official member of the International Walther League.

In 1934-35 several lectures were presented and the money donated to the school. They also gave a play during 1935.

1936-37, went along smoothly and in August, 1938, a farewell party was given for Henry Becker who went to California to teach in a Lutheran school.

Here are some annual affairs and activities that they have each year: play, subscriptions for magazines to be put in doctors' offices; coloring eggs for Kinderheim; sale of Wheatridge Seals; donations given to Zion Lutheran school.

In 1938 the Zion Lutheran church was struck by lightning and the inside of the church demolished. The League gave several things to help restore the church to some of its former beauty.

The present officers are: John Lindhorst, president; Lorraine Schultz, vice president; Helen Milas, secretary; Ruby L. Koehler, treasurer (and a very fine and faithful news reporter).

We are sorry to hear that Leola Rittmueller is no longer a Leaguer, but as she was married last month, she has resigned. Perhaps she will attend some of the affairs anyway.

So much for Bensenville. They are still very active and really do the League's program.

We've just been reprimanded for stating that Schaumburg was not represented at the Zone hike so we hasten to apologize. It was, very much so, in the person of Harvey Pohlman. Sorry.

Traditional Thanksgiving in Tune with Your Budget

Five kernels of corn beside each plate! If you were invited to a Thanksgiving dinner and found these kernels of corn, would you know what they meant . . . and what would be expected of you?

Or would your hostess have to explain that they're an old New England custom . . . and they mean each person at the table will be called upon to tell five reasons why he is thankful.

There is a legend back of this. It's told that an early New England Puritan was once faced with starvation. Then he found five kernels of corn on his granary floor. Immediately he knelt to give thanks for them.

Bountiful Simplicity

Following such a tradition certainly should put each guest and member of the family in a humbly appreciative spirit. But most of all it should remind us that we Americans can enjoy many of the good old Thanksgiving standbys even though we may be compelled to manage our dinner this year from a very limited budget.

For instance, here is a Thanksgiving dinner menu shorn of many superfluities . . . yet still a bountiful feast.

Clear Tomato Soup Toasted Salty Wafers
Celery
Stuffed Chicken or Duck or Pork Roast Gravy
Cranberry Sauce or Apple Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Mashed Turnips Creamed Onions
Bread and Butter
Pumpkin Pie or Apple Pie or Cranberry Pie
Coffee

When we think of pumpkin pie and mince pie in connection with Thanksgiving, we sometimes forget that apple pie and cranberry pie held just as honorable positions at those early Thanksgiving feasts. So if you have an abundant store of apples, and want a de luxe apple pie for your Thanksgiving dessert, here is a grand recipe for an old-fashioned Country Apple Pie baked with cream.

Country Apple Pie

Pastry for one-crust pie
5 cups sliced, pared tart apples (about 5 medium-large apples)
¾ to 1 cup sugar (depending on sweetness desired)
¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour
⅛ tsp. salt
¾ cup plain cream (25% butterfat) and 1 tbsp. soft butter OR ¾ cup whipping cream (35% butterfat)
½ tsp. cinnamon or nutmeg mixed with 1 tbsp. sugar (for top)

Place sliced apples in chilled, unbaked lower crust in pie pan. Add sugar, flour and salt to plain cream and butter or to whipping cream, and beat with rotary beater until very thick. Pour this thickened cream mixture over the apples . . . and then spread it out so it covers the apples completely. Sprinkle mixture of cinnamon or nutmeg and sugar over the top.

Bake 15 minutes in a very hot oven (450° F.) . . . then reduce temperature to moderate oven (350° F.) (open oven door a little to change temperature quickly) and bake 45 minutes longer. (If necessary, cover pie with piece of paper during last few minutes of baking to prevent apples from browning too much.) The cream is all absorbed with the juice so it is not apparent, but the taste is delicious.

This recipe makes a very deep 8-inch or fairly deep 9-inch pie (1¼ inches deep) for 6 to 7 servings.

It Happened Here

"When we mailed the package to you," writes our Colorado correspondent, "the Postmaster said, 'These are your people, aren't they, Mrs. H—? I'll put some fives on for your boys' stamp collection.' Probably a Chicago Postmaster wouldn't think of suggesting things like that." Well, we never saw a Chicago Postmaster, don't even know if there is one—he's probably just a robot. Small town folk are friendly folk, as a rule, on the other hand, the City has a heart if you push the right button; like the time the bottom fell out of Pearlie's carrying sack and all the groceries fell plump onto the sidewalk. "Law-zee! they was a-rollin' ever' whichway an' the street car comin', but they was a lady in the hotel above an' she hear the noise an' open her window an' throw me down another sack; seems like they's always some one to help jes' when you needs it most." Anyhow, most Chicagoans came from small towns and there is still a piece of Mokena, New Lenox, Frankfort, Green Garden, Minooka, Twelve Mile Grove and Arlington Heights in their hearts. Dr. McC—, who has an office in a big down town office building came to Chicago a green country boy and had his first ride in an elevator. "On the way down I asked the man how much I owed him and when he told me I didn't owe him a cent, I was amazed—I didn't see how he could afford it." That isn't to say that elevator men are kindly men or that an elevator has a heart—at that, it has a much, much kinder heart than an escalator.

North wind came calling—b-r-r-r!
He knocked on the window but I wouldn't stir.
Under the covers so warm and snug,
So what do you think he left on the rug?
Nine calling cards, each deftly pinned
To a crinkling leaf, signed, Yours,
North Wind.

It Happened Here

"When we mailed the package to you," writes our Colorado correspondent, "the Postmaster said, 'These are your people, aren't they, Mrs. H—? I'll put some fives on for your boys' stamp collection.' Probably a Chicago Postmaster wouldn't think of suggesting things like that." Well, we never saw a Chicago Postmaster, don't even know if there is one—he's probably just a robot. Small town folk are friendly folk, as a rule, on the other hand, the City has a heart if you push the right button; like the time the bottom fell out of Pearlie's carrying sack and all the groceries fell plump onto the sidewalk. "Law-zee! they was a-rollin' ever' whichway an' the street car comin', but they was a lady in the hotel above an' she hear the noise an' open her window an' throw me down another sack; seems like they's always some one to help jes' when you needs it most." Anyhow, most Chicagoans came from small towns and there is still a piece of Mokena, New Lenox, Frankfort, Green Garden, Minooka, Twelve Mile Grove and Arlington Heights in their hearts. Dr. McC—, who has an office in a big down town office building came to Chicago a green country boy and had his first ride in an elevator. "On the way down I asked the man how much I owed him and when he told me I didn't owe him a cent, I was amazed—I didn't see how he could afford it." That isn't to say that elevator men are kindly men or that an elevator has a heart—at that, it has a much, much kinder heart than an escalator.

North wind came calling—b-r-r-r!
He knocked on the window but I wouldn't stir.
Under the covers so warm and snug,
So what do you think he left on the rug?
Nine calling cards, each deftly pinned
To a crinkling leaf, signed, Yours,
North Wind.

What Has The Future In Store For The Dairyman?

"A few people are of the opinion that after the war preparation program comes to an end, employment may slacken, and we may be in for a period of depressed prices," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

To give farmers — especially dairymen the best possible information on what to expect and to plan their operations accordingly, Dr. Robert Bartlett of the University Farm Economics department will be in Cook county at a meeting at the Palatine high school Tuesday evening, November 19, 8 p. m. to discuss this vital question.

Mr. A. Herstrum of the Palatine High School Agricultural Department, who is cooperating with Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes in this meeting, states "Farmers know Dr. Bartlett and there are few better qualified to discuss this question. If there ever was a time when farmers should give careful consideration to economic questions it is at this critical time. In bringing this man here dairymen are given an opportunity to get the best thought possible on the years that are ahead of us. We feel it our duty to call this information to our farmer's attention." Says Farm Adviser Hughes," there are dairymen in South Cook county who can well afford to take time to make up a carload and come to this meeting. We go many more miles for less important business."

No Wig

Contrary to popular belief, George Washington did not wear a wig.

Young Farmers Show Products Saturday

Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. there will be an interesting and instructive exhibit of farm products at the Palatine high school gymnasium.

Sixteen schools from six counties in northern Illinois will compete in the exhibits.

Already there have been 225 poultry entries, 75 baskets of ear corn, 95 pecks of shelled corn, as well as a host of entries of small grains, potatoes, eggs, etc.

The Agricultural class of the Palatine township high school will again be the hosts to this farm exhibition by the future farmers of America.

Agricultural director Alfred Herstrum, of the Palatine high school, has again devoted a great deal of energy and time to making this show one of the outstanding events of the school year.

Last year a highly successful show was held with many fine exhibits but not a great many people came out to see what America's young farmers are doing.

This show is well worth seeing and a lot of farmers and townspeople will be surprised at what the youngsters are doing and at the enthusiasm and interest they show in doing it.

If you want to see a real poultry and farm products show, showing what the future farmers of America can do and are doing, come out to the Palatine high school gym Saturday and you'll see something that will surprise you.

SAMUEL O. MASTERS, Manager

Using Lime & Phosphate For Grant Of Aid

"In the soil conservation program farmers may receive advances for limestone and phosphate as a grant of aid for participation in the 1941 soil conservation contract," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Farmers also will be offered an opportunity to buy super-phosphate and triple phosphate to be shipped in from factories at a very reasonable price. Farmers will be asking themselves if this super-phosphate or triple phosphate may not be cheaper than the rock phosphate."

After conferring with officials of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station the following suggestions are made to farmers in guiding them with reference to the use of these phosphates. First, we wish to repeat the suggestion that we have made many times in these columns and that is that phosphates of any kind, whether they are rock phosphates or acid phosphate, give best results when they are in the ground rather than left on top of the ground. This goes for limestone also. When phosphates are put on top the ground uncovered with vegetation, there is a likelihood that there will be enough sheet erosion to carry a great deal of the phosphate away. However, when phosphate is put on top the ground in a growth of vegetation such as alfalfa field the likelihood of this getting away is reduced quite a bit. It is our opinioin therefore that since farmers are getting this grant of aid and considerable limestone and phosphate will be used this fall and winter that application be made on ground that will be covered with vegetation.

In order to comply with the grant of aid limestone and phosphates must not be used on soil depleting crops such as corn, oats, wheat, soybeans for seed, etc. Therefore, it would appear best to apply these materials on first year alfalfa or red clover that will stand over the second year or on blue grass pastures. We especially wish to emphasize soil improvement on pastures which means that limestone and phosphate can be put on top the pasture during the winter and cut with a disc in the spring with some sweet clover seeded in that part of the pasture and fenced off to allow the sweet clover to get some growth in the spring. There is a slight benefit from limestone and phosphate applied on the surface of the growth in an alfalfa field. The maximum benefits will be received after three or four years.

Soluable phosphate such as acid phosphate applied on the surface would not go down as deep as raw rock phosphate itself. None of these can be expected to work deeper than one inch in the soil and the bulk of the material will be in the top one-third of an inch.

Regarding the value of rock phosphate and the cheaper forms of soluable phosphate that will be brought in experiments in Illinois indicate that these two fertilizers apparently have about the same value dollar for dollar. Of course this does not apply when soluable phosphates are used as a hill drop application on corn or similar crops but when it is used on alfalfa or other legumes even the reduced prices of these soluable phophates will not make them any more valuable fertilizing material than rock phosphate. There is one possible exception to this. If a farmer is a tenant and the landlord is not following a fertilizer program on the land, a tenant may expect to use soluable phosphates to get a little quicker results than they will get from rock phosphate. However, since the amount of phosphorous applied is much greater in rock phosphate any owner who expects to be on his farm for some time had best use rock phosphate because he is getting more phosphorous on the ground for his money that will be in the soil and useable after the soluable phosphates are exhausted.

The purchase of limestone and phosphates will be thru contract. The soil conservation committee for Cook county will receive open bids November 9. After that time contracts for limestone will be let to the quarry making the best bid for the best material.

Ogle County Husker Wins Meet; Cook Farmer Places Sixth

Champions or runners up of northern Illinois counties met in competition Thursday, November 7, for the amateur title at the Furr farm, just north of Genoa. Eleven contestants participated in this final field day.

Maynard Bruns, entry from Ogle county, won the title of Northern Illinois Champion, being closely pressed by Ralph Miller of Jo Daviess county, with Van Huizen of Carroll county, taking third.

The contest was considered a very successful event by the sponsors, Kenneth Furr and Associates of Genoa, Illinois.

An enthusiastic crowd enjoyed fancy horse back riding by the Colby show horses of Shabbona, Ill., with Mrs. Edgar Colby putting her trained horses thru all their tricks. Various tractor and farm machinery demonstrations kept the crowd busy all day.

The entries with position in which they finished and total bushels husked were as follows:

1—M. Bruns, Ogle Co., 37.0341.
2—R. Miller, Jo Daviess, 36.2574.
3—Van Huizen, Carroll, 35.35.
4—F. Ross, Stephenson, 35.1005.
5—B. Nelson, Winnebago, 33.8428.
6—L. Roesslein, Cook, 33.7157.
7—F. Dauphin, Carroll, 31.2357.
8—T. Severtson, Kendall, 33.0984
9—G. Engelson, Boone, 31.0179.
10—J. Timm, DeKalb, 31.009.
11—H. Wagner, Whiteside, 27.9988.

Two Local 4-H Members Cited In State Selections

Two 4-H club members of Cook county have been honored with the citation of "outstanding" club member on the list of 299 such members just released by club officials of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, it is announced by Assistant Farm Adviser, Charles N. Glover.

Distinguished as the "pick" of the state's 37,000 club members, the outstanding members earned their distinction through successful project work and active leadership over a period of years.

Cook county's honored members are:

Raymond Thies, Roselle, a member of the Palatine-Schaumburg 4-H club has been carrying livestock projects.

Norman Yunker, Orland Park, of the Orland 4-H Club has been carrying dairy and crops projects.

The two Cook county members who have just been honored are among the 250 4-H members who have conducted definite projects in improved farming and homemaking practices during the past year under supervision of their local leaders, assistant farm adviser, Charles N. Glover, and the extension service of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

25 Years Of Soil "Defense" Program Evident In Report

A "defense" program was started in Illinois 25 or more years ago to protect the state's agricultural resources.

Now it's easy to see how this "preparedness" program has insured Illinois farmers against an offensive by the destruction forces of erosion and soil depletion. Evidence of the soil "defense" program is that the University of Illinois College of Agriculture thru its specialists and local farm advisers has influenced 175,000 farmers in 82 Illinois counties to lime more than 4,000,000 acres of land during the past 25 years.

A survey of farmers in 82 Illinois counties made under the direction of W. L. Burlison, head of agronomy, also shows that 13,000 Illinois formers have applied rock phosphate on 437,000 acres, 1,519 farmers terraced 35,000 acres, 1,566 are farming 21,000 acres on the contour level to prevent erosion and conserve moisture, 25,976 have established 131,000 grass waterways, 53,000 farmers have 1,360,000 acres of timber, 496,000 acres of which are not in pasture, 2,987 have planted 32,700 acres of trees as a part of a good land use program and 8,127 farmers have improved 141,000 acres of pasture land by liming and reseeding.

During the past eight years the AAA farm program and U. S. Soil Conservation Service have assisted the College of Agriculture and local farm advisers in the liming and phosphate program. The grant-of-aid program of the AAA, now called conservation materials program, is responsible for 200,000 tons of limestone spread in 34 Illinois counties in 1940. The Farm Security Administration likewise has cooperated by including enough money in its loans to tenant purchasers to lime their entire farms.

Of the 35,000 acres which have been terraced, the U. S. Soil Conservation is responsible for about 23,000 acres. The rest was terraced under the supervision of local farm advisers and the college's agricultural engineering department.

The Soil Conservation Service also has assisted in the tree planting phase of the program, as well as in pasture improvement, 3,000 farms under the service's supervision having improved their pastures. The TVA demonstration project under the supervision of A. U. Thor, of the college's extension service, has established pasture demonstrations on 204 farms in 13 counties. These TVA demonstrations include 7,000 acres of pasture and about 1,000 acres of alfalfa and mixtures of alfalfa and timothy.

The five principal practices stressed during 1940 to enable farmers to get more conservation of physical and human resources are the spreading of limestone and fertilizers, pasture improvement, contour farming, tree planting and the seeding of legumes. Local farm advisers recently said that they were planning to stress for the most part the same conservation practices in 1941.

Creative Spirit

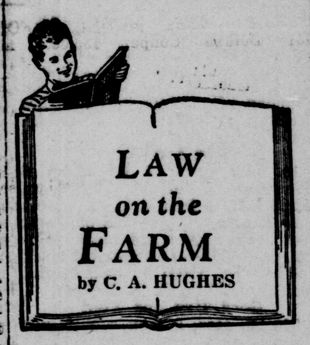

A human being is a focussing point of spiritual force and material supply, expressing in terms of mind and body the eternal creative spirit.

A.A.A. Program Will Be Continued

"As a post-mortem to the past election, farmers who have questioned whether the A. A. A. will be continued as a farm program need to consider two things," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "It was our opinion before the election that the farm question was not an issue in the past campaign. Apparently both parties were agreed that for the past the A. A. A. was the best possible program. We never felt at any time that had there been a change of administration that the farm program would have been disturbed. For this reason we believe farmers, regardless of their political feelings, should consider that so far as the past political thought is concerned, the A. A. A. is not and never was an issue. A few mistakes have been made in the A. A. A. program that have been magnified in the past quite a bit but by and large the public is sold on the farm program. The costs of the program have been magnified but when we stop to consider that the whole agricultural program of the United States does not cost any more than the subway that has been built in the city of Chicago, we realize that payments to farmers are one of the small items in governmental expenses.

"From this time on we are assured the A. A. A. will be carried out as it has in the past and farmers are invited to consider this program seriously and make the best possible use of it as they can on their farms. The program will be voluntary as it has in the past. We do not think for one minute that it should be other than voluntary. A great many farmers are beginning to find that the whole soil conservation and crop control program is in the best interests of agriculture. For the first time we are getting maximum good out of soil building practices and applications of essential soil building materials such as limestone and phosphate. More clover and alfalfa is being grown than has been in the past years. Cook county is essentially not a corn county. Many farmers have demonstrated that they can use alfalfa in their dairy operations very profitably. It is our firm conviction that the growth and use of more alfalfa in our dairy farming operations will not only build up some of our rolling soils but it will lend efficiency to our dairy operations.

"In the vegetable section of the county the Stamp plan has proven valuable in the last few months in getting consumers to move our surplus vegetables. This plan will undoubtedly meet with wider use during the coming year which will give farmers a little bit more opportunity to get rid of their crops that are being held in surplus."

Local Option on the Sale of Alcoholic Liquor—The Illinois Liquor Control Act of 1934 provides that cities, villages, incorporated towns (including a precinct or group of precincts in cities, villages and incorporated towns above 200,000 population), townships and road districts in counties not under township organization may, by a proper petition, submit to vote the proposition:

"Shall the sale at retail of alcoholic liquor be prohibited in Cook County."

The petition must be signed by not less than 25 per cent of the legal voters and must adhere to the form prescribed by law (Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 43, Section 169.) Petitioners in townships or road districts (in counties not under township organization) shall file the petition with the township or road district clerk at least 60 days before the election fixed by law for choosing county, township or road district officers. When this has been done, local officials must submit the proposition to vote at the next election.

In lieu of or in conjunction with a petition to prohibit the sale of all alcoholic liquor, there may be submitted a petition excepting beer containing 4 per cent or less of alcohol by weight. In cases where both propositions are submitted and the vote is favorable to the prohibition of all sales, the latter petition is disregarded.

The clerk to whom a proper petition has been submitted must prepare separate ballots and cause due notice of an election on the question to be published.

If a majority of the voters approve local option their decision becomes effective 30 days after the day of the election.

Once the prohibition of retail sale has been established, the question of continuance may be presented by petition and vote through a process similar to the petition and vote for establishment.

A petition to prohibit the retail sale of alcoholic liquor may be submitted only once in about every four years.

The law relative to local option may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 43, Section 166-182.

What Has The Future In Store For The Dairyman?

"A few people are of the opinion that after the war preparation program comes to an end, employment may slacken, and we may be in for a period of depressed prices," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

To give farmers — especially dairymen the best possible information on what to expect and to plan their operations accordingly, Dr. Robert Bartlett of the University Farm Economics department will be in Cook county at a meeting at the Palatine high school Tuesday evening, November 19, 8 p. m. to discuss this vital question.

Mr. A. Herstrum of the Palatine High School Agricultural Department, who is cooperating with Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes in this meeting, states "Farmers know Dr. Bartlett and there are few better qualified to discuss this question. If there ever was a time when farmers should give careful consideration to economic questions it is at this critical time. In bringing this man here dairymen are given an opportunity to get the best thought possible on the years that are ahead of us. We feel it our duty to call this information to our farmer's attention." Says Farm Adviser Hughes," there are dairymen in South Cook county who can well afford to take time to make up a carload and come to this meeting. We go many more miles for less important business."

No Wig

Contrary to popular belief, George Washington did not wear a wig.

Young Farmers Show Products Saturday

Saturday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. there will be an interesting and instructive exhibit of farm products at the Palatine high school gymnasium.

Sixteen schools from six counties in northern Illinois will compete in the exhibits.

Already there have been 225 poultry entries, 75 baskets of ear corn, 95 pecks of shelled corn, as well as a host of entries of small grains, potatoes, eggs, etc.

The Agricultural class of the Palatine township high school will again be the hosts to this farm exhibition by the future farmers of America.

Agricultural director Alfred Herstrum, of the Palatine high school, has again devoted a great deal of energy and time to making this show one of the outstanding events of the school year.

Last year a highly successful show was held with many fine exhibits but not a great many people came out to see what America's young farmers are doing.

This show is well worth seeing and a lot of farmers and townspeople will be surprised at what the youngsters are doing and at the enthusiasm and interest they show in doing it.

If you want to see a real poultry and farm products show, showing what the future farmers of America can do and are doing, come out to the Palatine high school gym Saturday and you'll see something that will surprise you.

Using Lime & Phosphate For Grant Of Aid

"In the soil conservation program farmers may receive advances for limestone and phosphate as a grant of aid for participation in the 1941 soil conservation contract," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Farmers also will be offered an opportunity to buy super-phosphate and triple phosphate to be shipped in from factories at a very reasonable price. Farmers will be asking themselves if this superphosphate or triple phosphate may not be cheaper than the rock phosphate."

After conferring with officials of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station the following suggestions are made to farmers in guiding them with reference to the use of these phosphates. First, we wish to repeat the suggestion that we have made many times in these columns and that is that phosphates of any kind, whether they are rock phosphates or acid phosphate, give best results when they are in the ground rather than left on top of the ground. This goes for limestone also. When phosphates are put on top the ground uncovered with vegetation, there is a likelihood that there will be enough sheet erosion to carry a great deal of the phosphate away. However, when phosphate is put on top the ground in a growth of vegetation such as alfalfa field the likelihood of this getting away is reduced quite a bit. It is our opinion therefore that since farmers are getting this grant of aid and considerable limestone and phosphate will be used this fall and winter that application be made on ground that will be covered with vegetation.

In order to comply with the grant of aid limestone and phosphates must not be used on soil depleting crops such as corn, oats, wheat, soybeans for seed, etc. Therefore, it would appear best to apply these materials on first year alfalfa or red clover that will stand over the second year or on blue grass pastures. We especially wish to emphasize soil improvement on pastures which means that limestone and phosphate can be put on top the pasture during the winter and cut with a disc in the spring with some sweet clover seeded in that part of the pasture and fenced off to allow the sweet clover to get some growth in the spring. There is a slight benefit from limestone and phosphate applied on the surface of the growth in an alfalfa field. The maximum benefits will be received after three or four years.

Soluable phosphate such as acid phosphate applied on the surface would not go down as deep as raw rock phosphate itself. None of these can be expected to work deeper than one inch in the soil and the bulk of the material will be in the top one-third of an inch.

Regarding the value of rock phosphate and the cheaper forms of soluable phosphate that will be brought in experiments in Illinois indicate that these two fertilizers apparently have about the same value dollar for dollar. Of course this does not apply when soluable phosphates are used as a hill drop application on corn or similar crops but when it is used on alfalfa or other legumes even the reduced prices of these soluable phophates will not make them any more valuable fertilizing material than rock phosphate. There is one possible exception to this. If a farmer is a tenant and the landlord is not following a fertilizer program on the land, a tenant may expect to use soluable phosphates to get a little quicker results than they will get from rock phosphate. However, since the amount of phosphorous applied is much greater in rock phosphate any owner who expects to be on his farm for some time had best use rock phosphate because he is getting more phosphorous on the ground for his money that will be in the soil and useable after the soluable phosphates are exhausted.

The purchase of limestone and phosphates will be thru contract. The soil conservation committee for Cook county will receive open bids November 9. After that time contracts for limestone will be let to the quarry making the best bid for the best material.

Ogle County Husker Wins Meet; Cook Farmer Places Sixth

Champions or runners up of northern Illinois counties met in competition Thursday, November 7, for the amateur title at the Furr farm, just north of Genoa. Eleven contestants participated in this final field day.

Maynard Bruns, entry from Ogle county, won the title of Northern Illinois Champion, being closely pressed by Ralph Miller of Jo Daviess county, with Van Huizen of Carroll county, taking third.

The contest was considered a very successful event by the sponsors, Kenneth Furr and Associates of Genoa, Illinois.

An enthusiastic crowd enjoyed fancy horse back riding by the Colby show horses of Shabbona, Ill., with Mrs. Edgar Colby putting her trained horses thru all their tricks. Various tractor and farm machinery demonstrations kept the crowd busy all day.

The entries with position in which they finished and total bushels husked were as follows:

1—M. Bruns, Ogle Co., 37.0341.
2—R. Miller, Jo Daviess, 36.2574.
3—Van Huizen, Carroll, 35.35.
4—F. Ross, Stephenson, 35.1005.
5—B. Nelson, Winnebago, 33.8428.
6—L. Roesslein, Cook, 33.7157.
7—F. Dauphin, Carroll, 31.2357.
8—T. Severtson, Kendall, 33.0984
9—G. Engelson, Boone, 31.0179.
10—J. Timm, DeKalb, 31.009.
11—H. Wagner, Whiteside, 27.9988.

Two Local 4-H Members Cited In State Selections

Two 4-H club members of Cook county have been honored with the citation of "outstanding" club member on the list of 299 such members just released by club officials of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, it is announced by Assistant Farm Adviser, Charles N. Glover.

Distinguished as the "pick" of the state's 37,000 club members, the outstanding members earned their distinction through successful project work and active leadership over a period of years.

Cook county's honored members are:

Raymond Thies, Roselle, a member of the Palatine-Schaumburg 4-H club has been carrying livestock projects.

Norman Yunker, Orland Park, of the Orland 4-H Club has been carrying dairy and crops projects.

The two Cook county members who have just been honored are among the 250 4-H members who have conducted definite projects in improved farming and homemaking practices during the past year under supervision of their local leaders, assistant farm adviser, Charles N. Glover, and the extension service of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

25 Years Of Soil "Defense" Program Evident In Report

A "defense" program was started in Illinois 25 or more years ago to protect the state's agricultural resources.

Now it's easy to see how this "preparedness" program has insured Illinois farmers against an offensive by the destruction forces of erosion and soil depletion. Evidence of the soil "defense" program is that the University of Illinois College of Agriculture thru its specialists and local farm advisers has influenced 175,000 farmers in 82 Illinois counties to lime more than 4,000,000 acres of land during the past 25 years.

A survey of farmers in 82 Illinois counties made under the direction of W. L. Burlison, head of agronomy, also shows that 13,000 Illinois formers have applied rock phosphate on 437,000 acres, 1,519 farmers terraced 35,000 acres, 1,566 are farming 21,000 acres on the contour level to prevent erosion and conserve moisture, 25,976 have established 131,000 grass waterways, 53,000 farmers have 1,360,000 acres of timber, 496,000 acres of which are not in pasture, 2,987 have planted 32,700 acres of trees as a part of a good land use program and 8,127 farmers have improved 141,000 acres of pasture land by liming and reseeding.

During the past eight years the AAA farm program and U. S. Soil Conservation Service have assisted the College of Agriculture and local farm advisers in the liming and phosphate program. The grant-of-aid program of the AAA, now called conservation materials program, is responsible for 200,000 tons of limestone spread in 34 Illinois counties in 1940. The Farm Security Administration likewise has cooperated by including enough money in its loans to tenant purchasers to lime their entire farms.

Of the 35,000 acres which have been terraced, the U. S. Soil Conservation is responsible for about 23,000 acres. The rest was terraced under the supervision of local farm advisers and the college's agricultural engineering department.

The Soil Conservation Service also has assisted in the tree planting phase of the program, as well as in pasture improvement, 3,000 farms under the service's supervision having improved their pastures. The TVA demonstration project under the supervision of A. U. Thor, of the college's extension service, has established pasture demonstrations on 204 farms in 13 counties. These TVA demonstrations include 7,000 acres of pasture and about 1,000 acres of alfalfa and mixtures of alfalfa and timothy.

The five principal practices stressed during 1940 to enable farmers to get more conservation of physical and human resources are the spreading of limestone and fertilizers, pasture improvement, contour farming, tree planting and the seeding of legumes. Local farm advisers recently said that they were planning to stress for the most part the same conservation practices in 1941.

Creative Spirit

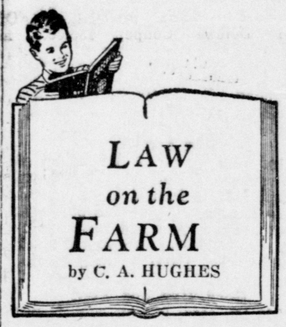

A human being is a focussing point of spiritual force and material supply, expressing in terms of mind and body the eternal creative spirit.

A.A.A. Program Will Be Continued

"As a post-mortem to the past election, farmers who have questioned whether the A. A. A. will be continued as a farm program need to consider two things," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "It was our opinion before the election that the farm question was not an issue in the past campaign. Apparently both parties were agreed that for the past the A. A. A. was the best possible program. We never felt at any time that had there been a change of administration that the farm program would have been disturbed. For this reason we believe farmers, regardless of their political feelings, should consider that so far as the past political thought is concerned, the A. A. A. is not and never was an issue. A few mistakes have been made in the A. A. A. program that have been magnified in the past quite a bit but by and large the public is sold on the farm program. The costs of the program have been magnified but when we stop to consider that the whole agricultural program of the United States does not cost any more than the subway that has been built in the city of Chicago, we realize that payments to farmers are one of the small items in governmental expenses.

"From this time on we are assured the A. A. A. will be carried out as it has in the past and farmers are invited to consider this program seriously and make the best possible use of it as they can on their farms. The program will be voluntary as it has in the past. We do not think for one minute that it should be other than voluntary. A great many farmers are beginning to find that the whole soil conservation and crop control program is in the best interests of agriculture. For the first time we are getting maximum good out of soil building practices and applications of essential soil building materials such as limestone and phosphate. More clover and alfalfa is being grown than has been in the past years. Cook county is essentially not a corn county. Many farmers have demonstrated that they can use alfalfa in their dairy operations very profitably. It is our firm conviction that the growth and use of more alfalfa in our dairy farming operations will not only build up some of our rolling soils but it will lend efficiency to our dairy operations.

"In the vegetable section of the county the Stamp plan has proven valuable in the last few months in getting consumers to move our surplus vegetables. This plan will undoubtedly meet with wider use during the coming year which will give farmers a little bit more opportunity to get rid of their crops that are being held in surplus."

Local Option on the Sale of Alcoholic Liquor—The Illinois Liquor Control Act of 1934 provides that cities, villages, incorporated towns (including a precinct or group of precincts in cities, villages and incorporated towns above 200,000 population), townships and road districts in counties not under township organization may, by a proper petition, submit to vote the proposition:

"Shall the sale at retail of alcoholic liquor be prohibited in Cook County."

The petition must be signed by not less than 25 per cent of the legal voters and must adhere to the form prescribed by law (Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 43, Section 169.) Petitioners in townships or road districts (in counties not under township organization) shall file the petition with the township or road district clerk at least 60 days before the election fixed by law for choosing county, township or road district officers. When this has been done, local officials must submit the proposition to vote at the next election.

In lieu of or in conjunction with a petition to prohibit the sale of all alcoholic liquor, there may be submitted a petition excepting beer containing 4 per cent or less of alcohol by weight. In cases where both propositions are submitted and the vote is favorable to the prohibition of all sales, the latter petition is disregarded.

The clerk to whom a proper petition has been submitted must prepare separate ballots and cause due notice of an election on the question to be published.

If a majority of the voters approve local option their decision becomes effective 30 days after the day of the election.

Once the prohibition of retail sale has been established, the question of continuance may be presented by petition and vote through a process similar to the petition and vote for establishment.

A petition to prohibit the retail sale of alcoholic liquor may be submitted only once in about every four years.

The law relative to local option may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 43, Section 166-182.

Mac Says-

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

Libertyville in the Northeast Conference and possibly Barrington and Northbrook in the Northwest loop are still thinking about football inasmuch as they will be looking forward to trophies emblematical of their respective championships, but the rest of the teams are glad to turn their attention to basketball. Nearly all the teams in both the local conferences will appear before the public in preseason games this coming week-end or on Tuesday or Wednesday before Thanksgiving. The official conference openers in both leagues are scheduled for November 29.

Who Will Win The Titles

Who will win the championships? Your guess is as good as mine. The next three issues of the Herald including this one will carry brief previews of the prospects of the teams. Read these and draw your own conclusions. The week that the season opens we will name our picks for first and second division berths in each league.

Basketball Most Popular Sport

There are fewer changes in the basketball rules this year which is a good sign. There have been a lot of changes in recent years aiming to speed up the game and make it more attractive for the fans. The result has been that more people pay admission to see basketball each year in U. S. than any other single sport. There is no question that it is the number one high school sport activity. The few changes this year in the rules will give the coaches a chance to catch up with the rule makers.

Change Overtime Rule

One of the changes this year does away with the sudden death in the first overtime period. Under the rule change the first three minute overtime period will close the contest if either team leads at its conclusion even if that lead be but one point. If the score is knotted however at the end of the first three minute period the sudden death, or first team to get two points, will determine the winner thereafter.

Increase Substituting Possibilities

Another change permits substitutions to be made after successful free throws. However there is no change in the fact that subs may not enter the game following the scoring of field goals. Another change has to do with the ball hitting a player out of bounds. For instance if a player of team A hits a ball out of bounds but it strikes a player of team B who is out of bounds, the ball is awarded to team A. This year if neither team calls a time out in the first four minutes of the second and fourth period the scorer is required to sound his horn at the time of the first dead ball thereafter and a two minute rest period is given the teams.

Rule On Declining Free Throws

In the case of declining a free throw and electing to take the ball out of bounds instead the team does not have any choice once the ball has been placed at the disposal of a free thrower. This year the official must hand the ball to a player out of bounds. When the ball is called dead the player having the ball must immediately toss it to the nearest official or suffer a technical foul.

Case Where Sub Shoots Free Throw

If a player is disqualified for four fouls or other reason and a double foul has resulted. The boy who takes the place of the disqualified player will shoot the free throw. Another slight change requires that in all cases of technical fouls the team shooting the free throw gets the ball out of bounds if the basket is made or missed. Last year there were exceptions to this practice. If two teams appear on the court in uniforms of similar color the responsibility for changing to a contrasting color is placed upon the home team.

Streamlined Backboards

The new style streamlined backboards have been made legal but not compulsory. Some schools are painting in black the part of their backboards which would not be included in the new model. Others are raising their backboards as the new style has the basket on the bottom of the board. Just what the common policy will be in the neighboring leagues has not yet been determined.

Change Tourney Dates

The dates of the state tournament series will be changed somewhat this year due to the new four team state final setup. The districts will be played February 26 to March 1, the regionals from March 5-8, the sectionals from March 11-14, the state semi-finals on the Monday and Tuesday nights of March 17 and 18, and the state finals on the Friday and Saturday evenings of March 21 and 22. The arrangement this year completes the sectionals on Friday night instead of Saturday. All the tournament sessions including the state meet will be held in the evening so no games will be played during school hours. Two of the possible sites of semi-final tournaments in the north end of the state are at Joliet and Rockford.

Palatine Loses to Dundee, 63-57; Reserves Win

Palatine suffered a setback in a practice game with Dundee last Thursday 63-57. In reality the schools played two games as two teams were used by each in alternate periods. The Palatine regulars were bested 35-27 as Ronnie Schumacher, Dundee center, scored 25 points. The Palatine seconds made up of varsity reserves and lightweights beat Dundee's first team subs 30-28. After trailing 10-2 the first quarter Palatine shifted to a man for man defense and played the visitors on even terms in the remaining periods. Hildebrandt scored eleven points while Hahnfeldt, Schwolow, Birks and Harris each scored nine in the course of the eight periods scrimmage.

The coaches of the Northwest conference and their wives will have a dinner meeting Monday, November 18 at the Barnes on Algonquin road, south of Barrington. Following the dinner the ladies will play cards and the coaches will draft the 1941 football schedule and see the movie "Precision Basketball." Arrangements for the meeting have been made by Paul Clark, Barrington athletic director, who is secretary of the coaches club.

Libertyville Loses To Palatine Teams In Practice Games

Palatine took both games of a practice double bill with Libertyville Tuesday afternoon. The Pirate first squad outpointed Bergstrom's Wildcats 42-24 while the Palatine lights came out on top 38-29. Libertyville had only recently finished football or the scores would no doubt have been much closer.

The Pirate first squad of nine played Libertyville on the home court and after a close first quarter in which Strand had a hot shooting streak for the Cats, Palatine pulled away to a safe lead. Snyder and Hildebrandt set the Pirate scoring pace with 13 points apiece. Hildebrandt scored seven of his in eight free throw attempts. Snyder had five field goals. Aside from erratic passing by the Palatine guards the team showed considerable improvement over last week. Hollinger, however, was not back in action. For Libertyville Strand with nine points and Huffmann with six were high. Cherenovich also played well.

The Palatine lights played at Libertyville and made an optimistic showing. Harris scored 11 points, Howes eight, and J. Hayes, Jones, and Vogt each collected four.

Shorts From Here and There

We hear from Arlington that the Cardinal cagers are the tallest in history and Hayes is optimistic concerning their chances . . . Maine Township's cross country team won the West Suburban title for the sixth straight year Saturday. Other schools placed as follows: Downers Grove, Riverside, York, LaGrange, Glenbard, and Hinsdale . . . Deaths from football are on the decline for the fourth straight year. Only five fatalities were reported this season in the whole country . . . Ela has the heaviest schedule for pre-conference evening games of any school in the Northwest loop, meeting Highland Park, Barrington, Bensenville, and Woodstock before the conference opener with Antioch . . . The McHenry county tournament and the State Regional tournament are both slated to be played on the new Woodstock Community high school court . . . Grant's annual football banquet is scheduled for next Tuesday . . . Downers won the West Suburban grid crown without defeat, but beat York only 8-6. Wheaton, Little Seven champ, drubbed York 25-0 last Friday. Draw your own conclusions.

Lake Forest Overcomes Zion Lead To Win In 2nd Half, 14-6

Lake Forest, runner up in the Northeast conference, defeated Zion-Benton 14-7 in the final game of the season last Friday at Lake Forest. Zion-Benton had won five straight after dropping their opener to Riverside. It was their first season of football and they made an unusual record under the circumstances.

Friday's game found Zion pounding through Lake Forest for a touchdown and a half time lead of 7-0 but the Scouts, led by Frank Lohman unleashed a passing and running attack in the second half which the Red Raiders from Zion could not stop. Lohman alone piled up 172 yards from scrimmage and tossed passes for 54 more yards. The Scouts gained 19 first downs to Zion's five and completely dominated play in the second half. It was a fitting close to the career of the best back in the Northeast conference.

First Place And Cellar End In Tie In Northwest Conference

The situation in the Northwest Conference from a football standpoint was just a case of ties. Barrington and Northbrook, the 1939 champs, tied each other 6-6 after easily beating Grant and Northbrook. The latter pair tied 13-13 in their final game to share the cellar. A tie for the championship and a tie for last place in a four team league really is a study in contrasts.

Government Hospitality

Britain spent $111,000 for government "hospitality" last year and will economize this year down to $65,000.

Bensenville Likes To Play Six Man Football

Bensenville's six man football team was much stronger this year than last even though the team did lose two of its three contests. The possibilities for scoring in the six man games are shown by the scores of Bensenville's games. The Bisons lost to Shabbona 26-19, to Grant 36-30 and won from Lyle 34-19. Bensenville had 48 boys out for football at the beginning of the season which shows that interest in the sport is growing. The Bisons had a hard time scheduling opponents as the six man game is not played as much in this area as in other parts of Illinois. For this reason the season was rather abbreviated. It was the second year that Kirby has directed football at Bensenville.

Morton Grove Plans $20,000 Extension To Water System

A $20,000 extension to the Morton Grove municipal water system was started this week, Mayor Herbert A. Dilg announced.

Thirty new homes will be immediately served and facilities provided for new buildings by installation of 1½ miles of new water mains along Beckwith rd., Normandy ave., and Nashville ave. in N. E. Morton Grove. Financing by Marcus, Kindred & Company, Chicago, was possible because of the profitable operation of the water system.

"The Village Board, following out a progressive improvement program," said Mayor Dilg, "will extend water mains to other sections of Morton Grove when they can support the cost of the extension."

Glass Walls

Complete outside walls of a house or other building can be built with glass blocks, a new building material. Made in various sizes, the blocks are sealed, hollow and patterned so that they pass light but are not transparent. Their enclosed hollow centers insulate much more effectively than do ordinary windows.

Wauconda Big Threat In Northwest Conference Basketball Race

By G. A. McELROY

(This is the fist of a series of prevues of prospects in the Northwest Conference)

Wauconda will again have a strong first division team in the Northwest Conference cage race. Coach Carl Herrmann has four lettermen returning from the team which took second last year just a game behind Palatine. The Bulldogs will be minus Stone and Dixon of last year's team but will have Captain Froehlke, one of the best forwards in the league, as well as Porten and Werden who were regulars and Oswald the number one reserve. This quartet will average five feet, nine inches in height.

MATERIAL IS LIMITED

Reserves who are among the 20 battling for varsity positions are Pankonin, Whitman, Dunker and Diannis. Pankonin is the only six footer on the Wauconda squad. The success of the Wauconda squad will depend a great deal upon it being free from sick men and injuries as Coach Herrmann will have only a few boys to depend upon. The prospects are not as good as last year but if the center candidates develop, Wauconda will be winning a majority of games.

The Bulldogs open Friday, November 15 with Bensenville at Wauconda in a non-conference game and then travel to Barrington, November 19 for another non-league game. The conference opener will be at Grant, November 29.

ANTIOCH HAS THREE VETERANS

Prospects at Antioch are about the same as last year when the Sequoits finished in the second division. Jim Harvey, floor guard, and Fred Hawkins, six foot, one inch center, are the only regulars back though Barnstable, a reserve is available and saw much varsity experience last year.

PLAY TWENTY GAMES

Coach R. M. Childers expects Sterbenz, Buchta, and Fields from last years lightweight team to make the strongest bids for first team positions. Thirty boys are out for basketball at Antioch and a schedule of ten non-conference and 10 conference contests faces them in the coming weeks. The Sequoits meets Palatine there in an afternoon game this week Friday.

What's Wrong?

In a hall seating 2,000, Taft at Topeka had an audience of 700. Over in another hall to hear a hillbilly concert were packed 1,500 with thousands outside unable to enter. Down at Lawrence the other night Gannett had an audience of 300. Maybe that is what is the matter with the American people.

Niles To Meet Evanston And New Trier Before Opening At Arlington

(This is the first in a series of Northeast Conference Cage previews).

Boyks and Bauman are gone but Niles expects to have a pretty fair basketball team anyway. Les Galitz, the new head coach of basketball, will have Red Williams, veteran six foot two inch center, and Domas a six foot guard as a nucleus for his team. In addition a number of two and three year lightweight veterans will be moving up.

The best of the promoted lightweights appear to be Peterson (5-9), Podraza (6-0), and Thulstrup (6-3), Huscher (5-10) and Anderson (5-10) are also expected to play more or less regularly.

The Trojans meet Evanston and New Trier before opening the conference season at Arlington. Norman Kent, frosh coach last year, will handle the lightweights as Galitz has taken over the heavyweight coaching.

Plenty of Height On This Year's Team

A week of practice for the Arlington Heights high school basketball teams, followed by scrimmages on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week with Barrington and Bensenville, have given the coaches some idea of the possibilities and personnel of their squads. With plenty of height well distributed among varsity squad members, coaches Hayes and Campbell can count on a team which will get possession of the ball a good share of the time.

Having this to build on, the coaches are concentrating on the fundamentals of passing, dribbling, floor-work, and defense which must be mastered thoroughly if the Cardinals are to be a factor in the Northeast Conference title race. There is plenty of sharp-shooting ability on the squad and, if the team can consistently shake some of the "Daniel Boones" loose for open shots, Arlington fans will see some scoring. Defensive powers of the team, though, will be relatively unknown until some games have been played. High scoring, if present, would mean little when opponents do likewise.

Arlington's first game will be a recently scheduled home contest on the night of Friday, November 22. The Cardinals will take on some unusual competition, for them, when they meet Coach Horseley's Wheaton high school team. Wheaton boasts a team every inch as big as the Arlington line-up and considerably more experienced. They will go downstate to play several games after the opener at Arlington and apparently are looking to a successful season. This contest will give the Cardinals a severe early-season test, in which defeat would be no disgrace and victory a signal honor.

Mac Says-

by GERALD A. MC ELROY

Libertyville in the Northeast Conference and possibly Barrington and Northbrook in the Northwest loop are still thinking about football inasmuch as they will be looking forward to trophies emblematical of their respective championships, but the rest of the teams are glad to turn their attention to basketball. Nearly all the teams in both the local conferences will appear before the public in preseason games this coming week-end or on Tuesday or Wednesday before Thanksgiving. The official conference openers in both leagues are scheduled for November 29.

Who Will Win The Titles

Who will win the championships? Your guess is as good as mine. The next three issues of the Herald including this one will carry brief previews of the prospects of the teams. Read these and draw your own conclusions. The week that the season opens we will name our picks for first and second division berths in each league.

Basketball Most Popular Sport

There are fewer changes in the basketball rules this year which is a good sign. There have been a lot of changes in recent years aiming to speed up the game and make it more attractive for the fans. The result has been that more people pay admission to see basketball each year in U. S. than any other single sport. There is no question that it is the number one high school sport activity. The few changes this year in the rules will give the coaches a chance to catch up with the rule makers.

Change Overtime Rule

One of the changes this year does away with the sudden death in the first overtime period. Under the rule change the first three minute overtime period will close the contest if either team leads at its conclusion even if that lead be but one point. If the score is knotted however at the end of the first three minute period the sudden death, or first team to get two points, will determine the winner thereafter.

Increase Substituting Possibilities

Another change permits substitutions to be made after successful free throws. However there is no change in the fact that subs may not enter the game following the scoring of field goals. Another change has to do with the ball hitting a player out of bounds. For instance if a player of team A hits a ball out of bounds but it strikes a player of team B who is out of bounds, the ball is awarded to team A. This year if neither team calls a time out in the first four minutes of the second and fourth period the scorer is required to sound his horn at the time of the first dead ball thereafter and a two minute rest period is given the teams.

Rule On Declining Free Throws

In the case of declining a free throw and electing to take the ball out of bounds instead the team does not have any choice once the ball has been placed at the disposal of a free thrower. This year the official must hand the ball to a player out of bounds. When the ball is called dead the player having the ball must immediately toss it to the nearest official or suffer a technical foul.

Case Where Sub Shoots Free Throw

If a player is disqualified for four fouls or other reason and a double foul has resulted. The boy who takes the place of the disqualified player will shoot the free throw. Another slight change requires that in all cases of technical fouls the team shooting the free throw gets the ball out of bounds if the basket is made or missed. Last year there were exceptions to this practice. If two teams appear on the court in uniforms of similar color the responsibility for changing to a contrasting color is placed upon the home team.

Streamlined Backboards

The new style streamlined backboards have been made legal but not compulsory. Some schools are painting in black the part of their backboards which would not be included in the new model. Others are raising their backboards as the new style has the basket on the bottom of the board. Just what the common policy will be in the neighboring leagues has not yet been determined.

Change Tourney Dates

The dates of the state tournament series will be changed somewhat this year due to the new four team state final setup. The districts will be played February 26 to March 1, the regionals from March 5-8, the sectionals from March 11-14, the state semi-finals on the Monday and Tuesday nights of March 17 and 18, and the state finals on the Friday and Saturday evenings of March 21 and 22. The arrangement this year completes the sectionals on Friday night instead of Saturday. All the tournament sessions including the state meet will be held in the evening so no games will be played during school hours. Two of the possible sites of semi-final tournaments in the north end of the state are at Joliet and Rockford.

Palatine Loses to Dundee, 63-57; Reserves Win

Palatine suffered a setback in a practice game with Dundee last Thursday 63-57. In reality the schools played two games as two teams were used by each in alternate periods. The Palatine regulars were bested 35-27 as Ronnie Schumacher, Dundee center, scored 25 points. The Palatine seconds made up of varsity reserves and lightweights beat Dundee's first team subs 30-28. After trailing 10-2 the first quarter Palatine shifted to a man for man defense and played the visitors on even terms in the remaining periods. Hildebrandt scored eleven points while Hahnfeldt, Schwolow, Birks and Harris each scored nine in the course of the eight periods scrimmage.

The coaches of the Northwest conference and their wives will have a dinner meeting Monday, November 18 at the Barnes on Algonquin road, south of Barrington. Following the dinner the ladies will play cards and the coaches will draft the 1941 football schedule and see the movie "Precision Basketball." Arrangements for the meeting have been made by Paul Clark, Barrington athletic director, who is secretary of the coaches club.

Libertyville Loses To Palatine Teams In Practice Games

Palatine took both games of a practice double bill with Libertyville Tuesday afternoon. The Pirate first squad outpointed Bergstrom's Wildcats 42-24 while the Palatine lights came out on top 38-29. Libertyville had only recently finished football or the scores would no doubt have been much closer.

The Pirate first squad of nine played Libertyville on the home court and after a close first quarter in which Strand had a hot shooting streak for the Cats, Palatine pulled away to a safe lead. Snyder and Hildebrandt set the Pirate scoring pace with 13 points apiece. Hildebrandt scored seven of his in eight free throw attempts. Snyder had five field goals. Aside from erratic passing by the Palatine guards the team showed considerable improvement over last week. Hollinger, however, was not back in action. For Libertyville Strand with nine points and Huffmann with six were high. Cherenovich also played well.

The Palatine lights played at Libertyville and made an optimistic showing. Harris scored 11 points, Howes eight, and J. Hayes, Jones, and Vogt each collected four.

Shorts From Here and There

We hear from Arlington that the Cardinal cagers are the tallest in history and Hayes is optimistic concerning their chances . . . Maine Township's cross country team won the West Suburban title for the sixth straight year Saturday. Other schools placed as follows: Downers Grove, Riverside, York, LaGrange, Glenbard, and Hinsdale . . . Deaths from football are on the decline for the fourth straight year. Only five fatalities were reported this season in the whole country . . . Ela has the heaviest schedule for pre-conference evening games of any school in the Northwest loop, meeting Highland Park, Barrington, Bensenville, and Woodstock before the conference opener with Antioch . . . The McHenry county tournament and the State Regional tournament are both slated to be played on the new Woodstock Community high school court . . . Grant's annual football banquet is scheduled for next Tuesday . . . Downers won the West Suburban grid crown without defeat, but beat York only 8-6. Wheaton, Little Seven champ, drubbed York 25-0 last Friday. Draw your own conclusions.

Lake Forest Overcomes Zion Lead To Win In 2nd Half, 14-6

Lake Forest, runner up in the Northeast conference, defeated Zion-Benton 14-7 in the final game of the season last Friday at Lake Forest. Zion-Benton had won five straight after dropping their opener to Riverside. It was their first season of football and they made an unusual record under the circumstances.

Friday's game found Zion pounding through Lake Forest for a touchdown and a half time lead of 7-0 but the Scouts, led by Frank Lohman unleashed a passing and running attack in the second half which the Red Raiders from Zion could not stop. Lohman alone piled up 172 yards from scrimmage and tossed passes for 54 more yards. The Scouts gained 19 first downs to Zion's five and completely dominated play in the second half. It was a fitting close to the career of the best back in the Northeast conference.

First Place And Cellar End In Tie In Northwest Conference

The situation in the Northwest Conference from a football standpoint was just a case of ties. Barrington and Northbrook, the 1939 champs, tied each other 6-6 after easily beating Grant and Northbrook. The latter pair tied 13-13 in their final game to share the cellar. A tie for the championship and a tie for last place in a four team league really is a study in contrasts.

Government Hospitality

Britain spent $111,000 for government "hospitality" last year and will economize this year down to $65,000.

Bensenville Likes To Play Six Man Football

Bensenville's six man football team was much stronger this year than last even though the team did lose two of its three contests. The possibilities for scoring in the six man games are shown by the scores of Bensenville's games. The Bisons lost to Shabbona 26-19, to Grant 36-30 and won from Lyle 34-19. Bensenville had 48 boys out for football at the beginning of the season which shows that interest in the sport is growing. The Bisons had a hard time scheduling opponents as the six man game is not played as much in this area as in other parts of Illinois. For this reason the season was rather abbreviated. It was the second year that Kirby has directed football at Bensenville.

Les Galitz, the new head coach of basketball, will have Red Williams, veteran six foot two inch center, and Domas a six foot guard as a nucleus for his team. In addition a number of two and three year lightweight veterans will be moving up.

The best of the promoted lightweights appear to be Peterson (5-9), Podraza (6-0), and Thulstrup (6-3), Huscher (5-10) and Anderson (5-10) are also expected to play more or less regularly.

The Trojans meet Evanston and New Trier before opening the conference season at Arlington. Norman Kent, frosh coach last year, will handle the lightweights as Galitz has taken over the heavyweight coaching.

Plenty of Height On This Year's Team

A week of practice for the Arlington Heights high school basketball teams, followed by scrimmages on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week with Barrington and Bensenville, have given the coaches some idea of the possibilities and personnel of their squads. With plenty of height well distributed among varsity squad members, coaches Hayes and Campbell can count on a team which will get possession of the ball a good share of the time.

Having this to build on, the coaches are concentrating on the fundamentals of passing, dribbling, floor-work, and defense which must be mastered thoroughly if the Cardinals are to be a factor in the Northeast Conference title race. There is plenty of sharp-shooting ability on the squad and, if the team can consistently shake some of the "Daniel Boones" loose for open shots, Arlington fans will see some scoring. Defensive powers of the team, though, will be relatively unknown until some games have been played. High scoring, if present, would mean little when opponents do likewise.

Arlington's first game will be a recently scheduled home contest on the night of Friday, November 22. The Cardinals will take on some unusual competition, for them, when they meet Coach Horseley's Wheaton high school team. Wheaton boasts a team every inch as big as the Arlington line-up and considerably more experienced. They will go downstate to play several games after the opener at Arlington and apparently are looking to a successful season. This contest will give the Cardinals a severe early-season test, in which defeat would be no disgrace and victory a signal honor.
